KRONICLE BOARD

Second row: Marjorie Sanborn, Marion Burke, Mary Kennedy, Katherine Parks, Dorothy Ingham, Muriel Aldrich, Hazel Stewart.

Third row: Hortense Peabody, Doris Glines, Richard Erwin, Alfreda Difley, Elizabeth Fletcher, Bertha Patenaude.

The winds of graduation are rustling the leaves on the education trees. The leaves are all dressed in their best for the great event. This will be a landmark in their career. We, the graduates, are the leaves; the bright scarlet ones, the yellow quiet ones, the brown rusty ones and the evergreen ones of the spruce and fir.

Scarlet leaves attract our attention now for a short year or two and then are gone. They are brilliant, quick to progress, and sure of purpose but they leave the parent tree for other fields. Yellow leaves are unassuming and intelligent but mediocre. They drift the way of others and having no initiative soon drop behind. Have you ever seen a few scattered brown leaves clinging to a tree after all others have fled. These are the tenacious prejudiced pedagogues who, not seeking new thoughts, still believe the old way to be best. They will teach for years but will not learn a new idea themselves. Last of all nature shows you the emerald frocked leaves of the evergreens. These people are the true teachers. They have the light of the quest for knowledge in their eyes. They will not cease to grow out, will broaden out into greater opportunities and will keep alive in themselves as well as in others that burning desire for more and more education, which is the secret of many a happy life.

We must choose which leaf we will be in our little forest and we must choose soon for the breezes are already murmuring and beckoning us away. May we all do something! May we all be somebody! May we all choose wisely!

"But to every man there openeth
A highway and a low,
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go."

SCHOOL SONG OUR PLEDGE

(Music and Words by Mand. E. Howes)

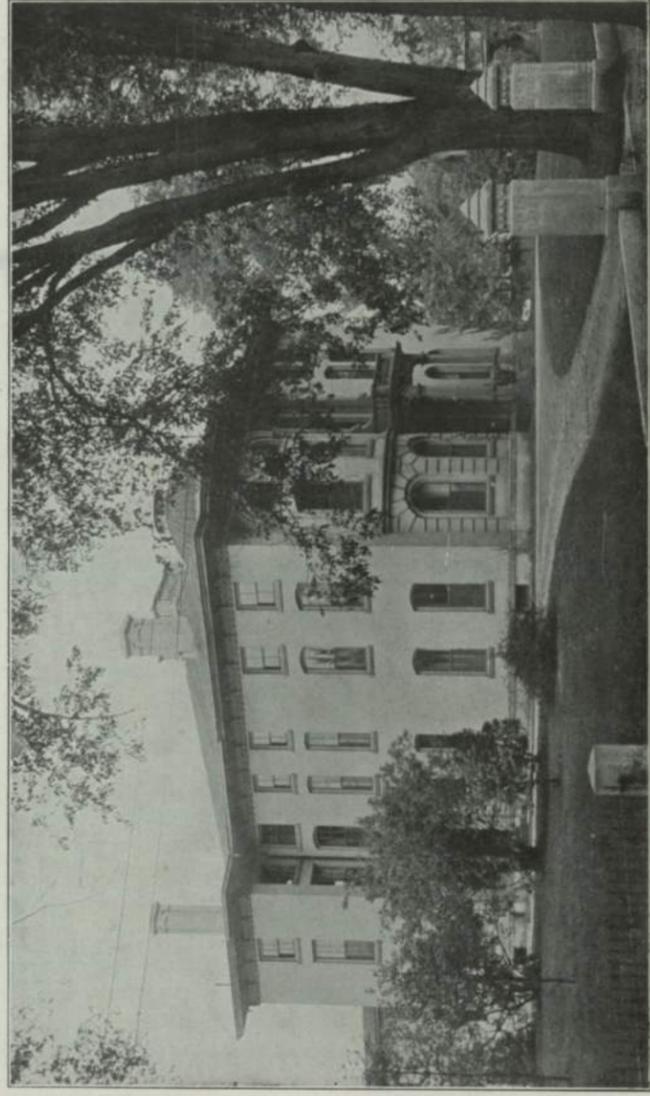

All up and fight, fight, fight for old Keene Normal
Our loyalty proclaim!
In every contest we must strive to conquer,
For there must be no limit to her fame,
Her honor, ever our inspiring genius,
Upon our strength relies,
So let our hearts knit near
To raise a rousing good cheer;
Victory's laurels be her fadeless prize.

We pledge and prove our faith to Alma Mater,
The debt to her we owe,
We'll recompense with gratitude and service,
Undoubting pride the only thought we know,
We'll strive to gain the summit whence she beckons,
Our heart's blood throbbing high,
Though perils it involve
We'll make this granite resolve,
In protecting her, we'll do or die.

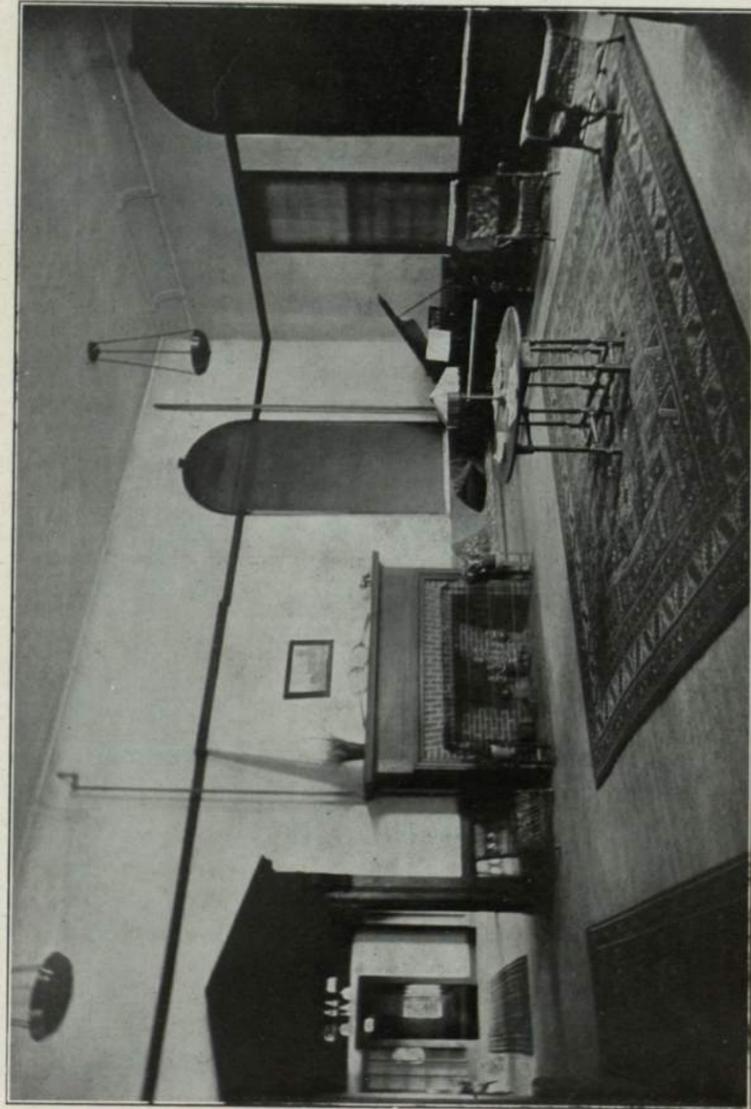

So kindle bright the fires upon her altar,
To burn while time shall last,
In future years its flame may be the emblem
Of courage, strength and vigor unsurpassed
She reigns supreme the loved and honored sovereign,
That through our lives shall rule,
Unfurl the red and white,
The only colors in sight,
As we hail our dear Keene Normal School.

FOUR YEAR COURSE

IRENE FARLEY, HOLLIS

"Farley"

Athletic Association (1) (2) (3) (4); Outing Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Forum (1) (2) (3); Secretary of Forum (2); Varsity Debating Team (3); Camera Club (2) (3)

"And, O, the difference to me."

Your fourth year has been one of philosophizing. May it bring you to your goal; true belief in determinism. However that may be, we are confident that you are determined to be a good sport, an ambitious worker, a splendid teacher, and the best of friends. Good luck to you, "Farley," in whatever you undertake, whether it be editing Bibles or cheering your less fortunate comrades along the path of life.

ALBERT E. GAUTHIER, FRANKLIN

"Curley"

Class President (4); Alpha Board (1) (2) (3) (4); Editor-in-chief (4); Le Petit Salon (1) (2) (3) (4); President (3) (4); Forum (4); "K" Club (2) (3) (4); B. B. (1) (2) (4); Manager (2); Football (1); Baseball (1) (2) (3) (4); Boy's A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Alpha Pi Tau (1) (2) (3) (4); Secretary (2); Boy's Glee Club (4)

"Character is the building of a nation."

"Curley" is ever loyal to the highest ideals of K. N. S.; a hard worker in whatever he undertakes, whether it is athletics, studies, or work. He has personality, plus the ability to make lasting friends. Many things can be expected of him after he graduates from K. N. S.

MARY ALIDA HALL, KEENE

Academy of Science (2) (3) (4); President (3); Treasurer (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Hockey Varsity (3) (4); Le Petit Salon (1) (2); "K" Club (3) (4); Keene Club (1) (2) (3) (4); Treasurer (4); Student Council (2)

"Ding dong bell"

This isn't a story of a school bell but of another—far more interesting to students at K. N. S. It is the bell Mary rings to call us to meals. It could be easily compared to Mary's characteristics; the fame of them has re-echoed far and near.

CLEON E. HEALD, KEENE

Graduate of 3 year course 1924; 4th year (degree) '29 Forum (2) (3); Outing Club (3) (4); Radio Club (3); Gamma Chapter Kappa Delta Phi (2) (3) (4); National President 1928, 1929

"Real worth requires no interpreter"

We were glad to see Cleon back with us for another year. When a fellow leaves a good job to do that, it shows we are getting something worth while. May your future success be even greater than that of the past.

ALFRED SENTER HOLT, SOUTH LYNDBORO

"Pete"

Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3) (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Alpha Pi Tau (1) (2) (3) (4); Secretary (3); Baseball Manager (2); "K" Club (3) (4); Cheer leader (2) (3) (4); Alpha Board (2)

"The play's the thing"

Pete's main avocation is dramatics. He is a living example of Shakespeare's famous line, "and each in his own time must play many parts."

A snappy cheer-leader, a loyal friend, a helpful classmate, the best of companions, in short a "reg'lar guy." That's "Pete."

WILLIAM S. HUGHES, KEENE

"Bark"

Football (1) (2) (4); B. B. (1) (2); Baseball (1) (2) (3); "K" Club (2) (3) (4); Dramatic Club (2) (3) (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Alpha Pi Tau (1) (2) (3) (4); Kronicle Board (2) (3) (4); Class Treasurer (4)

"It is appointed for all men to enjoy, but for few to achieve."

As a traffic officer you have no equal. In other school activities you have given us the greatest support, as athlete, class leader and actor.

ELIZABETH FRANCES McCOY, JAFFREY

"Lib"
 Forum (1) (2) (3) (4); Varsity Debate (2) (3) (4);
 Y. W. C. A. (2); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3)
 (4); Outing Club (1) (2) (3) (4)
 "Yet do thou strive; as thou are capable.
 At times "Lib" is the sweet lady of kindly solicitude, but we have seen her flashing fire in debate! Seeing her on the campus or in the office we are convinced that she is a studious, four year senior, but we also know her as a lover of ideals and knowledge. "Lib" loves to discuss problems too, especially after ten!

GLADYS NEAL, WEST NEWTON, MASS.
"Glad"; "Gladdie"
 Camera Club (2) (3) (4); Archery Club (3) (4),
 Secretary (4); Radio Club (2); Varsity Hockey (2)
 (3) (4); Varsity B. B. (2) (3) (4), Captain (4); Dramatic Club (4); "K" Club (3) (4), President (4);
 A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4)

"How to occasion's height she rose"
 It was a pleasure to be with one of the most capable and enthusiastic girls who has ever attended Keene Normal. The list of activities further relates the tale of our most athletic girl, who has shown her ability while dramatizing Shakespeare, teaching the young members of Keene High, as well as while playing hockey and basketball.

HOME ECONOMICS COURSE

DORIS BELLE CHILD, NORTH WOLCOTT, VT.

"Dottie"
 Vermont Club (3) (4); Keene Chorus Club (1) (4);
 A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Forum (2); Y. W. C. A. (1)
 (2) (3) (4); Nu Beta Upsilon (2) (3) (4), Secretary
 (3), President (4); Home Economics Club (4), Vice-President (4); Outing Club (1) (2) (3) (4)
 "Some think the world is made for fun and frolic, and so do I."

Who doesn't know Dottie Belle, with her curly hair?
 She's a fine sport and a good friend. Her interests vary from sewing to "Rainy Weather." It must be that "Be it ever so humble there's no place like Keene," for we always find "Dottie" here.

KATHRYN CROSS, WEST SPRINGFIELD
"Kay"
 Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Nu Beta Upsilon (2)
 (3) (4); Home Economics Club (4); Outing Club
 (1) (2) (3) (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4)
 "Her little tongue was never still,
 Talk it must and talk it will."

A shout and a rush down the hall. Who's coming?
 Oh! it's "Kay." Although "Kay" is the smallest member of our class, she certainly gets in her share of laughter, jokes, and opinions on every subject. She is care-free, independent, and capable. We hope these characteristics will bring her great success some day.

MARION SADIE DAVIS, WARNER
"Dave"
 Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Forum (2) (3); A. A.
 (1) (2) (3) (4); Nu Beta Upsilon (2) (3) (4);
 Chaplain (4); Home Economics Club (4); Outing
 Club (1) (2) (3) (4)

"Not in word alone but in deed"
 "Dave" is one of our four year Home Ec'ers who is always ready to laugh at a good joke. She makes a good Chaplain for our N. B. U. for she really can be serious. We all wish you success, "Dave," in your teaching profession.

MARION E. FRENCH, MERRIMACK
"Frenchie"
 Nu Beta Upsilon (2) (3) (4), President (4); Kronicle Board (4); Home Economics Club (4); Class Secretary (4); Outing Club (1) (2) (3) (4); A. A. (1)
 (2) (3) (4)

"Never a girl more willing,
 Never a girl more kind."
 There never was a girl with more business than our "Frenchie." She is a helpful friend to all, and whatever she is asked to do she does willingly. She has many varied interests; perhaps the most important is her interest in C. E. Conventions. "Will you explain,
 'Frenchie'?"

BERTHA ALMIRA PELLERIN, WEST CANAAN

"Pell"; "Berja"
 Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Home Economics Club (4);
 Nu Beta Upsilon (2) (3) (4), Secretary (4); Outing Club (1) (2) (3) (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4)
 "Kindness has resistless charms"
 "Pell" is very conscientious in all her work. She is not superstitious, but she always relies on her number,
 "thirteen." She is very quiet until you know her; then, prepare yourself for a surprise.

MECHANICS ARTS COURSE

ROBERT FRANCIS GERVAIS, CONCORD

"Bob"
 President of Class (1); Hockey (2) (3) (4), Captain
 (4); Football (1) (2) (3) (4); Basketball (1) (2)
 (3) (4); Baseball (1) (2) (3) (4); "K" Club (2) (3)
 (4), President (4); Dramatic Club (4); A. P. T.
 (1) (2) (3) (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4), President
 (4)

"I would help others out of fellow-feeling."
 Bob's prowess in sports has made him one of Keene's outstanding athletes. Gentler activities—dramatics and dancing—were not neglected, however, for there are many fields in which Bob is proficient.

LEON E. HAMEL, FRANKLIN

"Bus"; "Buster"
 Mechanic Arts Club (4), President (4); Alpha Alumni
 Editor (2) (3) (4); Forum (1); Alpha Pi Tau (1)
 (2) (3) (4); Baseball (1) (2) (3) (4); B. B. (1) (2) (3) (4);
 Football (1) (2) (3); Boy's A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4)
 "The only way to have a friend is to be one."

Buster's adherence to this motto has won for him a host of friends. He is the official school "chauffeur"— his line of car ranging from a "Bus-wagon" to a Ford.
 Versatile in athletics, an expert in mechanic arts, courteous, obliging, capable, dependable, ambitious; all these are characteristic of "Bus." A friend worth having is a friend worth keeping.

BERRYMAN DAVID MINAH, NASHUA

"Berm"
 Class Treasurer (1); Football (1) (2) (3) (4), Captain (4); Basketball (1) (2) (3) (4), Captain (1) (2); Baseball (1) (2) (3) (4); Hockey Team (3); "K" Club
 (3) (4), President (3); A. P. T. (1) (2) (3) (4), Vice-President (2) (3), President (4); Academy of Science (3) (4); Mechanic Arts Club (4)

"Wisely and slowly; they stumble that run fast."
 It is thus that "Berm" has gone through his four years at K. N. S., proving his sterling worth as leader, athlete and friend. Faithfully and willingly he has served his fraternity, clubs and school. We are glad and proud to have known him—the worthy captain of the first team to play a "home coming" game.

THREE YEAR HIGH SCHOOL COURSE

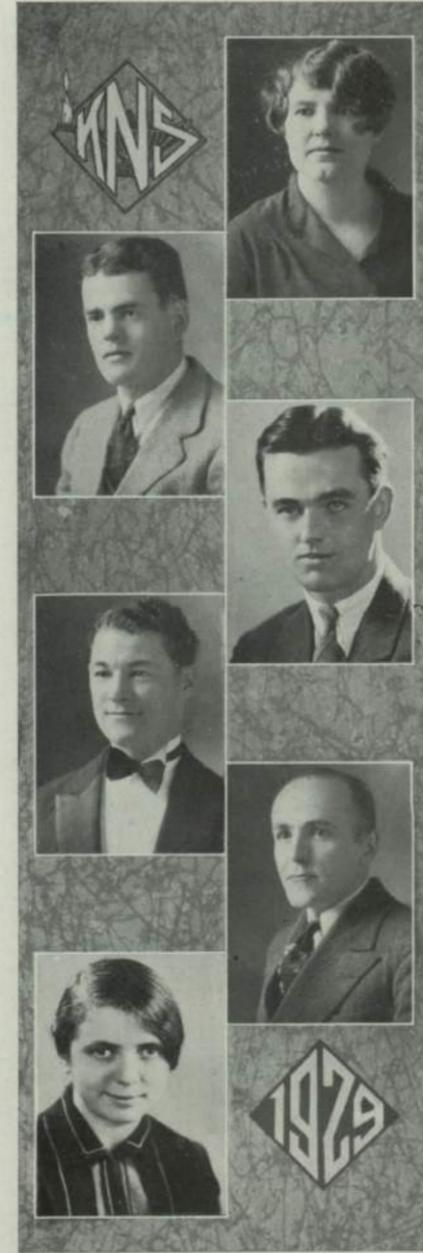

CARROLL P. ABBOTT, NORTH CHARLESTOWN
 Men's Glee Club (1) (2); Dramatic Club (1) (2);
 Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
 "Brevity is the soul of wit."

Abbott's contributions to class discussions have always been interesting and amusing ones. When things have seemed dull he has cheered us with his humor. We hope you have liked New England as well as you do Virginia.

ISABEL ELSIE BOUTELLE, MILFORD

"Izzy"
 Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2)
 (3); French Club (1) (2) (3); Dramatic Club
 (1) (2) (3); Forum (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (2)

"Work and ye shall achieve great things."
 "Izzy," although industrious to the nth degree, always has time for fun. Can you imagine "Izzy" without a smile? Her sense of humor will go a long way toward success whether her profession be teaching or otherwise.

JOSEPHINE LOUISA BOYNTON, CONCORD
"Jo"; "Josie"; "Joey"
 Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3); French Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3);
"She who says little, says much."
"Jo" may be quiet, but she certainly has the goods
whether it be history, geography or the happenings on Second Floor, West End, in Fiske.

DOROTHY R. BRESNAHAN, NASHUA
"Dot"
 Academy of Science (1) (2); Forum (1) (2) (3);
 Keene Chorus Club (1) (2) (3); Debating Squad
 (1) (2); Y. W. C. A. (1); Choir (1)
"Ready in heart and ready in hand!"
"Dot" is one of the busy girls at K. N. S. We all know what she can do; her accomplishments are not limited to teaching!

HELEN ADELINE BROWNE, MANCHESTER
"Linnie"
 De La Salle (1) (2) (3); Manchester Club (1) (2) (3);
 Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association
 (1) (2) (3)
"On with the dance; let joy be unconfined."
Linnie believes that this is a great little world so she makes the most of it. We marvel at her grace, her poise, her dignity, her cleverness, and versatility. "To see all, know all, and try all" is the policy of "Linnie."
She is surely headed for an eventful future.

HILDRED MAY BURKE, MANCHESTER
"Red"; "Burkie"; "Healthy"
 Hockey Varsity (2) (3); Orchestra (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2) (3); "K" Club (2) (3); Vice-President (3); A. A. (1) (2) (3)
"Her specialty is leading on
To where the athlete's crown is won."
A piercing whistle reverberates from the walls about campus—Hildred, of course.
"On your way to hockey practice?"
"No, I'm bound for camp."
An athlete and a lover of the out of doors—that's Hildred; the girl with the boyish bob, the swinging stride, and the cheery greeting for all. Honor in health?
I should say so.

VIOLET MAE CHASE, HILLSBORO
"Chasie"; "Vi"
 Junior Choir (1); French Club (1) (2) (3); De La Salle
 (1); Forum (2) (3); Athletic Association (2) (3)
"A fun-loving girl and a jolly good sport."
"Chasie," the vivacious "Chasie," can chase your blues away. Remember the soft drawl in class? But she always said something worth hearing. "Her future is aglow with possibilities."

ANNE CRAHAN, PITTSFIELD, VT.
"January"; "Crams"
 Forum (1) (2) (3); Varsity Hockey (3); Outing Club
 (1) (2) (3); A. A. (1) (2) (3); De La Salle,
 (1) (2) (3); "K" Club (3)
"Pluck is certainly a virtue."
Anne, you have surely proved your worth by your unfailing courage and pluck. Such qualities as these should make you very successful in your chosen profes- sion.

VINNIE GERALDINE DAVIS, PORTSMOUTH
"Jo"; "Gerry"
 Le Petit Salon (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1)
 (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)
 D—ependability
 A—miability
 V—ersatility
 I—niative
 S—cholarship
 These qualities have made "Joe" a success at K. N. S. and we feel confident that it is a success which will prove lasting. The twinkle in her eye and her winning ways have attracted us all.

VIOLA CORNELIA DAVIS, WILTON
"Vi"
 Camera Club (1) (2); Y. W. C. A. (1); French Club
 (1); Athletic Association (1) (3); Outing Club
 (1) (3)
"She is pretty to walk with, and witty to talk with,
and pleasant, too, to think on."
Know Vi? If you don't you've missed a lot. We want to watch her or she'll be capturing some of the Junior High youngsters with her winning ways. We all love her and wish luck to one of the best in the class.

KATHLEEN C. DAVISON, WOODSVILLE
"Keigh"
 Le Petit Salon (1) (2) (3); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3);
 Vice President (1); Academy of Science (1) (2) (3);
 President (3); Vice President (2); "K" Club (3);
 A. A. (1) (2) (3); Hockey (2) (3); Kronicle Board
 (2) (3); Editor in Chief (3)
"Action not words"
 It didn't take K. N. S. long to discover the worth of our beloved, honored and companionable "Keigh."
 She was slow to act but sure of purpose. How we all envied her versatility, pluck, lack of worries and efficient leadership. She was a good friend to many and a dear "pal" to some. We know fate holds much success in store for her.

ERMA MAE EATON, WHITEFIELD
"Ernie"
 Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Academy of Science (1) (2) (3); Forum (1) (2) (3); Varsity Hockey Squad (3);
 Debating Team (2) (3)
"Intense and keen and sharp and clever."
 These four adjectives describe a friend worth knowing. They make her the forceful debater, the speedy hockey player, the conscientious student, and the true pal; all of which we know her to be and which we feel sure will go a long way to give her success.

VELMA GOODSPEED, NASHUA
"Vel"
 French Club (1) (2); Nashua Club (1) (2) (3); A. A.
 (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)
"Maiden! with the meek brown eyes,
In whose orbs a shadow lies
Like the dusk in evening skies!"
 Who wouldn't commend "Vel" for her winning smile and her serene way? There's an irresistible humor in those "meek brown eyes" that have won her many friends. "Vel" looks toward the bright side of life, which is one excellent way of making progress.

ARTHUR GRAY, SANFORD, ME.
"Art"
 Forum (2) (3); Athletic Association (2) (3); Kronicle Board (2); Kappa Delta Phi (2) (3); Chaplain (3)
"Whatever you do, do it well."
 Arthur is from Maine, and having acquired credit in two northern colleges came to Keene as a special student. He has taken an active part in the fraternity, where he was Chaplain, and in other school activities.
 If we may judge from the good work he has done in Walpole, his will be a successful future.

MABEL HARRIS, WHITEFIELD

"Mabe"

"K" Club (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Forum (1) (2) (3); Academy of Science (1) (2) (3); Treasurer (3); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3); Hockey (3)

"Nor anger, nor the least surprise
At the uneven scales of fate."
Very good hearted; loving and kind,
A truer friend you'll never find;
Always ready to help and please,
Your joys to share, your cares to ease.

CECIL N. HEATH, DOVER

"Doc"

Dramatic Club Secretary (1) (2) (3); Nature Club (1); Academy of Science (1); Men's Chorus (1); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity, Assistant Secretary (1); Secretary and Vice-President (2); President (3); Outing Club (1) (2)

Learning not for its sake alone,
"Doc" toils to help the world get on.
He certainly has done his bit for K. N. S. while he has been here. In return, success has come to him; success, always, in our plays, in leading his fraternity and in his teaching.

HELEN ELIZABETH HIGGINS, AUGUSTA MAINE

"Betty"

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)

"I'll do my best."
We can all depend on "Betty" to do her level best in every one of her undertakings. "Betty" has been to us a good pal, with a sunny disposition, possessing loyalty, pep, and good sportsmanship.

ETHEL A. HILLSGROVE, PITTSFIELD

"Et"; "Eteele"

Le Petit Salon (1) (2) (3), Treasurer (2); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2) (3); De La Salle (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (3); A. A. (1) (3)

"I am, I did, I have"
Ethel is a "Miss Efficiency in her daily life as well as in "The Tailor Made Man."
She did more than efficient work as a teacher at junior high.
She has many times entertained and charmed us with her singing, reading, and acting.

EDMOND J. HOULE, ROCHESTER

"Ed"

Le Petit Salon (1) (2) (3), Secretary (2), Vice-President (3); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); President (3); "K" Club (2) (3); Kronicle Board (2) (3), Assistant Athletic Editor

"May heaven its choicest blessings send On such a man and such a friend."
Some school is going to find in "Ed," not only an excellent French teacher, but a capable athletic leader and a fine dramatic coach, as well. His fame as coach of that Ladies' Aid play in Sunapee is already wide spread.

EVA JOHNSON, WHITEHALL, N. Y.

Forum (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (2) (3); Athletic Association (2) (3); Outing Club (2) (3), "Patient of toil, serene amidst alarms."

Eva's is the persevering, ambitious nature that any one should be proud to possess. We have much to thank her for in the way of suggestions for reference books, teaching lessons and seeking positions.

LAURA KONONAN, KEENE

French Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)

"Mama goes where Papa goes"

Laura, where's Madeline? We surely admire "Tony's" choice of such a companion. May the "inseparables" never have to part.

HENRY LOVEJOY, MILFORD

"Bud"

Basketball (1) (2); Baseball (1); Football (1) (2) (3); "K" Club (3) (4); A. A. (1) (2) (3) (4); Ice Hockey (1); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3) (4); School Orchestra (3); Alpha Pi Tau (1) (2) (3) (4)

Did you ever meet a fellow you could not help liking? "Bud's" good nature and witty remarks make him the best of companions. We are glad he decided to take a fourth year here.

KATHRYN MCCARTHY, WILTON

"Kay"; "Mac"

Kronicle Board (1) (2) (3); Rifle Team (1); "K" Club (2) (3); De La Salle (1); Hockey (1) (2), Manager (2); Forum (1) (2) (3); Debating Squad (2); Orchestra (1) (2) (3); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2); A. A. (1) (2) (3)

"A winning, flashing smile has she."
In "Kathie," one finds the youthful, vivacious temperament beneath which runs a deep strain of seriousness. She is a splendid equestrienne, and a most accomplished violinist. Such a good sport and fine athlete aided by a charming personality is bound for great success.

ELINOR MILLER, WESTMINSTER STA., VT.

Forum (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (1); Vermont Club (2) (3); Class Secretary (2); Outing Club (1) (3); A. A. (1) (3)

"But oh she dances such a way!"
Elinor's hobby is dancing. We wonder if this is why she goes home every week-end, but we know that she certainly can dance. She is a good student and possesses such a charming, friendly personality that she has made many friends at K. N. S.

KATHERINE M. MORAN, NORTH CLARENDON, VT.

"Kay"

De La Salle (1); Camera (1) (2); Vermont Club (2) (3), Secretary (2); A. A. (1) (2) (3); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); President of Junior Dramatic (2); Forum (1) (2) (3), Vice-President (2), President (3); Varsity Debating Squad (1) (2) (3)

"Let us then be up and doing
With a heart for any fate."
"Kay" is the class reader, and is always ready to favor us with "How to Run a Buick" or "When I Went to Boston." She is outstanding, or one might say up-standing, especially by being five feet, eleven inches in height. She may teach for years, but those who know her well think she might join the Marines, in disguise, or work for an M. A.

ELVA MARY MORGAN, LODLOW, VERMONT

Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Vermont Club (2) (3); Treasurer of Vermont Club (3); Forum (3); Camera Club (2)

Look to our recommendation of her:
Kindness itself
Faithful to the end,
Cheerful yet sub-dued,
Sincere in action
Ready for work or play.
"Go thou forth,
And fortune play upon thy prosperous helm."

PHYLLIS LUND PAINE, BALDWINVILLE, MASS.
"Phyl"

Camera Club (1); French Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (3); Outing Club (1) (3)

"I love work, I could sit and look at it for hours!"
From the quotation you might think that "Phyl" is the diligent and industrious member of our class. If you did, you'll never make a judge. However, "Phyl" is a jolly good sport. Anyone who associates with her can always plan on a good time; a sure cure for the blues! We wonder if it is her three years here at school or what, that has made her become so attached to Keene. How about it, "Phyl"?

HELEN ELIZABETH PERKINS, LONDON

Class President (2) (3); Le Petit Salon (1) (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3), Vice-President (2); Camera Club (1) (2); A. A. (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Hockey Manager (3)

Class president, Helen has been
For two such happy years,
Athlete, teacher, leader, and friend
Loved by all her peers.

Oh, K. N. S. will laugh no more,
I feel it in my heart
For who is left to crack the jokes
When Helen does depart.

JOHN QUINN, WEST SWANZEY

Basketball (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Alpha Pi Tau Fraternity (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3)

"Oh this learning, what a thing it is."

The most affable and best natured fellow we know—that's John. Beneath his sense of gaiety and very near the surface lies a serious and reasonable young man. We are positive he will be a great success in some difficult field—perhaps as a geometry professor.

CONSTANCE E. RAND, PORTSMOUTH

"Connie"; "Con"

French Club (1) (2) (3); Class Vice-President (2); Class Secretary (3); Outing Club (1) (3); A. A. (1) (3); Camera Club (1)

"The principal ingredient in making friends is thoughtfulness."

We often wonder if Connie's famous "Pardon me class!" will ever come under the heading of "Famous Last Words." In spite of her responsibility as proctor in Long Hall, she certainly found time to have a great deal of fun with us.

EDITH RITCHIE, AMHERST

"Edie"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
"Born to attempt, attain, Never to surrender."

"Good things come in small packets, they say. To know "Edith" is to know this is true. She has been a real pal in every way.

ELSA H. RYAN, PORTSMOUTH

Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3)

"She's a wild Irish Rose"

The sweetest flower that grows."
Who is the rollicking, robust girl with the pleasant expression and the jolly Irish brogue? Why Elsa, of course, who else has such a merry way?

GEORGE MILLING STACY, JR., MANCHESTER
"Judge"

Manchester Club (1) (2) (3); Academy of Science (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (3); Athletic Association (1) (3)

"A future home builder"

George has taken a great interest in Manual Arts and has produced some excellent specimens of his work. That he is interested also in science has been shown by the work done in this club.

HAZEL A. STEWART, CANTERBURY

Le Petit Salon (1) (2) (3), Secretary (3); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3), Secretary (2) (3); Camera Club (1) (2); Kronicle Board (2) (3), Personal Editor (3); Outing Club (1) (3); A. A. (1) (3)

Oh Hazel, dear Hazel, come early this morn,
English classes are here, Miss Carleton has gone.
Whom else would she leave to fill her date,
But Hazel, the teacher of first class rate?

Teaching English is only one of Hazel's outstanding achievements. Her work toward making the Kronicle a success was indispensable. These, plus her many desirable characteristics, fortell the success and fame to be hers.

MADELINE E. STONE, KEENE

"Toni"

French Club (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)

"A life that moves to gracious ends"

Madeline is a quiet, demure little miss. She and her shadow live in Keene and so she is not seen on campus very much. Nevertheless, to those of us who know her, she has proved herself a true friend.

GORDON H. STREETER, WINCHENDON, MASS.

"Shorty"

A. A. (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Varsity Football (1) (3); Varsity Basketball (1) (3); Varsity Baseball (1) (2) (3); Alpha Pi Tau (1) (2) (3); Business Manager "Alpha" (2); "K" Club (2) (3)

"Play up and play the game"

Gordon's activities show that he is an outstanding athlete of our school. Was it because of this he was able to help make our first "Home Coming" a success?

EDITH CALDWELL SWETT, ANDOVER

"Sweetie"; "Trenty"; "Perspie"

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2) (3); Hockey Squad (1) (2) (3); French Club (1) (2) (3); K. Club (3); A. A. (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3)

"Hark, her cheerful voice is sounding Echoing lightly through the hall!
Can't you see her blue eyes dancing
As she chats with one and all?"

"Sweetie" is a friend as true blue as are her eyes. With her willingness to help others and with her charm and good humor she has gained many friends.

GEORGE EMERY TENNEY, JR., WALPOLE

"Em"; "Tenney"

Manager of Football (3); Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); A. P. T. (1) (2) (3); "K" Club (3); A. A. (1) (2) (3)

"I dare do all that may become a man."

Emery—athlete, manager, teacher, actor, dancer and campus beau—is there no limit to his abilities? In spite of all the worry his work must cost him, Walpole's pride still has time to smile.

ALICE FRANCES THOMPSON, CHOCORUA
"Tommie"

Camera Club (1); Athletic Association (1) (2) (3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2)
"A friend in need is a friend indeed."
Hard study has made "Tommie" a successful student at K. N. S. She is such an obliging person that no favor is too great, even spelling the difficult name of her home town. Her ready stock of jokes makes her a desirable companion.

EVELYN G. WARREN, MANCHESTER
"Barney"; "Trouble"; "Ev"

Manchester Club (1) (2) (3); "K" Club (2) (3);
Camera Club (2); Forum (1); Outing Club (1) (2)
(3); A. A. (1) (2) (3); Rifle Team (1) (2)
(3); Manager
"If naught is happening, then will I make it."
This is true of "Ev" whether we find her in Fiske Hall, 2nd, Center, or riding around in the "Spirit of Pedagogy." Those that know "Barney" will never forget her motto "Hang study! Care'll kill the cat!"

DOROTHEA WINNIFRED WHYTOCK, WARNER
"Dot"; "Scotchie"

Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); French Club (1) (2) (3);
A. A. (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (1); "K" Club (3); Keene Chorus Club (2); Varsity Hockey Squad (3); Class Treasurer (2)
Did you hear her laughter
Ringing through the hall?
Did you ever see her
Without a smile for all?

Happy, carefree, loving, and kind,
Ever ready to dare and do,
All these make our Dorothea
A worthwhile friend for you.

NORITA WILSON, ANTRIM
"Al"
"What wealth it is to have such friends that we cannot think of them without elevation."

N eat
O rderly
R eliable
I deal
T rustworthy
A fable

That is our Norita.

ART SUPERVISORY COURSE

CHRISTINA EUGENIA EK, KEENE
"Christy"

Outing Club (1) (3); Athletic Association (1) (3)
"It is not strength but art, obtains the prize."
Here is the artist of the Mid Year Ball. Although "Christy" has lived at the dorm only this year, she has won many friends among us. If you want your portrait painted, ask for "Christy."

GERTRUDE DORIS GONYA, BERLIN
French Club (1) (2) (3); Athletic Association (1) (2)
(3); Outing Club (1) (2) (3); De La Salle (1) (2)
(3); Camera Club (1) (2); Treasurer (1)
"Driving away dull care with her smile, Rollicking, gay—a pal worth while."
Words fail to describe friendship such as has been revealed through acquaintance with "Gert." Her jollity and good nature have always served to keep us in good spirits. The diligence with which she has pursued her course in art proves that seriousness lies beneath her good humor. May your ready wit always prove irresistible, "Gert."

MARJORIE MARIA SANBORN, LACONIA
"Marj"

Dramatic Club (1) (2) (3); Y. W. C. A. (1); Camera
Club (1) (2), President (2); Outing Club (1);
President (1); B. B. (1) (3); Hockey Squad (1)
Varsity (2); Glee Club (3); Keene Chorus Club (3); Kronicle Board (1) (2), Art Editor (3)
"A smile for all, a welcome glad,
A jovial, pleasing way she had."
"Marj" is one of our art students. Her sunny disposition and cheerful manner have been great assets for her at K. N. S.

MUSIC SUPERVISORY COURSE

MURIEL C. ALDRICH, KEENE
Kronicle Board (1) (2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3);
Orpheus (2) (3); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2) (3); Orchestra (1) (2) (3); Rifle Club (2)
"Music hath its charms"
We all know Muriel as one of our music girls, who excels on the violin. Much of her time during her senior year, she spent on her way to Henniker and Lempster where she supervises the music in the schools.
We know that she liked it because music surely is her strong point.

SADIE LEIGHTON, ROCHESTER
"Sadie"

Music Club (2) (3); Orchestra (1) (2) (3); Glee Club
(1) (2) (3); Le Petit Salon (1) (2) (3);
Y. W. C. A. (1) (2)
"There is no truer-hearted"
Whose laughter do we hear ringing down the halls?
Happy-go-lucky Sadie. The girl that tickles the ivories with the "March of the Dwarfs" or "Prelude in C Minor." She is ever willing to do this or that for everyone.

MARY ALICE MARTIN, DERRY
"Al"

Glee Club (2) (3); Orpheus (2) (3); Keene Chorus
Club (2) (3); Orchestra (3); Chapel Choir (3);
A. A. (3); Outing Club (3)
"What stronger breast plate than a heart untainted."
Who's that singing down the Hall? Oh, that's "Al" Martin! "Al" is always witty and smiling, even when things go wrong. We won't forget her happy smile when she raised her baton to lead the singing in chapel, and when she used to leave on her long trips to the "suburbs" of Keene to teach music.

ALMA PEARL PARKS, DERRY
"Parkie"

Varsity Hockey (2) (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3), Vice-President (2), President (3); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2) (3); Orpheus (2) (3), Secretary (2) (3); Orchestra (2) (3); Archery Club (3); Dramatic Club
(1) (2) (3); Chapel Choir (3); "K" Club (2) (3)
"She with soul bewitching voice, wins us to smile, inspires us to rejoice."
If there is ever anything you want in the line of music, just call on Alma because she's always willing to help. Her bashful smile and endearing manner invariably win her audience.

ELEMENTARY COURSE

MARY E. ADAMS, NASHUA
"Mollie"

Nashua Club (1); Dramatic Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
"A little body often harbors a great soul."
Take 60 inches of height, 2 ounces of blue eyes, 1 quart of dark, brown hair, 1 ounce of nose, 1 ounce of mouth, 1 bushel of pep, 1 peck of cleverness, 1 peck of dramatic ability, and a pinch of romance—mix well. The result is our Mollie, "tres petite" and the delight of her teachers and friends.

HELEN AGRAFIOTIS, MANCHESTER

"Smiles"

V. W. C. A. (1) (2); Hockey (2); Manchester Club (1) (2); A. A. (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Her very frowns are fairer far,
Than smiles of other maidens are."

Endowed with a cheerful nature and a pleasant smile, she has been welcome at K. N. S. May you continue through the school of life with our sincere wishes for your success.

ALYCE ANDERSON, MANCHESTER

"Al"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2), Vice-President (1), President (2)

"Like the end of a perfect day,
She satisfies you in every way."

There are many words we could use to describe Alyce. Say she is attractive, refined, friendly, interesting. It needs even more than these to do her justice. She is one of the seniors, admired and respected by all.

MILDRED ISABELLE ANGIER, FITZWILLIAM DEPOT

"Mil"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Oh, only the active can hope to shine."

What would the rest of the commuters have done if "Mil" hadn't been among them, to play the piano during lunch hour? If you ask "Mil" what her favorite tree is, she instantly answers, "Poplar."

ELIZABETH BANIGAN, MANCHESTER

"Betty"

Forum (2); Manchester Club (2); Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)

"Her life had many a hope and aim, Duties enough and little cares."

Yes, "Betty" joined the ranks of K. N. S. only last February, but her sunny charm has already won her many real friends.

EVELYN MAY BARTON, KEENE

"Evy"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)

"Ready with a happy smile Sure of winning all the while."

Since Evelyn has lived in town, there are many who do not know her. Her classmates will assure you of her friendly charm.

EVELYN BATCHELDER, BETHEL, VT.

"Eve"

Vermont Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); A. A. (1) (2)

"Let a smile be your umbrella."

This is Evelyn's motto and she always followed it, even when things went wrong. You made a big step toward success while practice teaching at East Unity and we are certain that you'll keep right on progressing, "Eve."

DOROTHEA M. BATTEN, EAST RYEGATE, VT.

"Dot"

Glee Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); V. W. C. A. (1) (2); Vermont Club (1) (2)

"This world is a world of friends."

"Dot" always has wanted to be a teacher, haven't you, "Dot"? You have taken a long step forward toward your goal and we hope that you'll keep on.

ANNETTE VICTORIA BERGERON, MANCHESTER

"Bergeron"

De La Salle (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Aquila no cepit muscas."
(The eagle does not catch flies.)

Does she know what it's all about? Oh! You have no idea! Ask anyone who taught with her at Wheelock, or anyone who lived near her at Huntress. Who's always willing to help you—who'll always be loyal? Why, "Bergeron," of course!

VIOLET MARIE BOUDREAU, MILFORD

"Frenchie"; "Vi"; "Bud"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2); Forum (1) (2); Camera Club (1)

Is she petite? I'll say she is.
Is she cute? I'll say she is.
Is she everyone's pal? I'll say she is.
Is she owner of a smile? I'll say she is.
Can she dance? I'll say she can.
Is she a good teacher? I'll say she is.
Is she on the road to success? I'll say she is.
Who is all this? Why don't you know?
'Tis Violet Boudreau.

ESTHER BOYDEN, TROY

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)

"Silence at any role cannot be misquoted."

Esther is an independent, businesslike girl. Very commendable traits are these, Esther. You should go far in your work.

HELEN MARIE BRODERICK, MANCHESTER

"Brody"

Manchester Club (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"A true friend—a real one."

Helen, the one who holds herself aloof. Helen is hard to get acquainted with, but once a friend always a friend. People say to know her is to love her. We feel sure of her success as a teacher.

B. MARIAN BROOKS, ERROL

"Brooksy"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2); Chapel Choir (2)

"Devout yet cheerful, active yet resigned."

M—mirth.
A—art.
R—responsibility.
I—interest.
A—ambition.
N—neatness.

"Brooksy" we wish you success and happiness in all that you do.

LORENA AUGUSTA BROWNING, HINSDALE

"Brownie"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)
 "Soft peace she brings, wherever she arrives"
 If we're ever in need of a story, poem, or a picture—why, of course, "Brownie" has one. We hope she won't save any bothersome "Bell Committees" on which to serve in the future.

LOUISE MADELINE BUSI, NASHUA

"Lou"

Nature Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2);
 Chapel Choir (2); Orchestra (1) (2); Nashua
 Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

Here's to a pal, so lovely and sweet,
 So generous too, and very neat.
 We prize your smile, for it is so rare,
 Your frankness too so fair and square.
 There's heaps that we would like to do,
 To prove how much we all love you.

MARY CAMPBELL, DERRY

"Soup"

Dramatic Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2);
 Outing Club (1) (2); Archery Club (2), Secretary (2)

"I wish you all the joys that you can wish."
 "Very sweet"—these words best describe Mary, as K. N. S. knows her. We surely will miss those sparkling eyes and that charming smile which radiate sunshine about campus.

MARION ELLA CAREY, KEENE

Keene Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); "K" Club (2); Hockey (1) (2)

"Cheerfulness is the sunny ray of life."
 Marion is our human questionnaire. Although she hails from Keene, she must be convinced. Besides making things lively in classes, she has been active in field hockey, swimming and skating.

IONE CHIDZUKO CATE, NASHUA

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Be a good sweet maid, and let who will be clever."
 K. N. S. students and faculty could feel nothing but friendship for Japan after knowing "Thousand Storks."
 That little island's adopted daughter has taught us more about her former home than all the geographies ever published.

FLORA CHARTER, CANDIA

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)

"A handsome house to lodge a friend."
 Flora is a conscientious student, a good teacher, and a loyal friend. She is ever ready to assist others and we feel assured that if Flora's ambition is realized many Keene Normal friends will be heartily welcomed to her "handsome house."

MURIEL CLEVENSHIRE CHURCH, CHESTER

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)
 "Never idle a moment, but thrifty and thoughtful of others."

Many K. N. S. students will miss the gracious assistance of Muriel in finding reference books in the library.
 Such an industrious person as she, certainly deserves all the success we can wish for her.

BERNICE PEARL CLARK, CANAAN

"Bunny"

Forum (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association
 (1) (2)

"A merry heart goes all the day."

That's "Bunny"! Everyone is greeted by her cheery smiles on campus. With her surplus amount of conscientiousness and her optimistic nature, success will surely follow "Bunny."

MADLINE CLOCK, RAYMOND

"Tick"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
 "Those who bring sunshine into the lives of others, cannot keep it from themselves."

Raymond may be a small town, but it sent us "Tick"! Full of fun and pep, we would have missed much if we had not known her.

GERTRUDE ELEANOR CLOUD, ARLINGTON, MASS.

"Trudy"; "Gert"

Vermont Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2);
 Outing Club (1) (2)

"In ourselves our fortunes lie, Life is as we make it."

Although she is very reserved in manner, there are some of us who have been lucky enough to know her.
 Vermont sent you, "Gert," but Massachusetts claims you now.

ESTELLE M. CORMIER, ROCHESTER

"Toots"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Who's that coming down the street?
 Who's that looking so "petite"?
 Who is it you're so glad to greet
 Every time you chance to meet!
 Does she give the eyes a treat?
 Can she be as good as sweet?
 As a friend is she hard to beat?
 I'll tell you, folks, she can't be beat!
 Of course she's "Toots"!"

In the eyes of those who know her best, she is a real pal.
 What will Molly do without her roommate next year?

LOUISE MAE CURRAN, CONCORD

"Lou"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Still waters run deep"

If you want a good friend, find "Lou." She has a charming personality plus her share of good looks. But "Lou," what do all those trips to Concord mean?

SERAPH DARLING, PEACHAM, VT.

"Darling"; "Sally"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)
"A maid of most bewitching charm."

Who isn't envious of those calm, gray eyes, that mass of black ringlets, that contagious smile, those provoking dimples, and that infectious personality? Furthermore it's perfectly legitimate for you to be green with envy if you are not listed among our "Darling Sally's" friends.

HARRIETT DAVIS, MERIDEN

Y. W. C. A. (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Character is a perfectly educated will."

Those who have come to know Harriett find her likeable, quiet, generous and studious. Geography seems to hold a fascination for her. We have reason to believe that the region around the "Don" river holds her chief interest.

ALFRIEDA MARGARET DIFLEY, WORCESTER, MASS.

"Al"

Kronicle Board (1) (2); Hockey Squad (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"A merry laugh, a smile for all."

She smiles with you gladly; she will sigh with you, too. In other words, she is just the right kind of friend. That she is also clever and witty we know from her most interesting current events.

ANNE ELIZABETH EATON, CHARLESTOWN

"Nan"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Nature Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2)

"When with beauty we can virtue join,
We paint the semblance of a form divine."

Never were truer words spoken for this modest miss with shining black hair, calm blue eyes and naturally rosy cheeks is admired by all. Her delightful manner has charmed us. A truly admirable friend, possessing both sincerity and geniality.

MARGARET EVELYN ESTES, MANCHESTER

"Peg"

Manchester Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1); Outing Club (2)

"These delights if thou canst give,
Mirth, with thee I mean to live."

Accommodating? "And how!" Generous? The best! As for being good company—who doesn't enjoy "Peg," with her frank wit? Another lesson plan—let's eat!

ALMA BRUNA FARINOLI, FITZWILLIAM DEPOT

"Al"

Outing Club (2); Athletic Association (2)

"Not the end, but the beginning."

Here's to "Al," one of the jolly band of commuters from Fitzwilliam. You'll be a pianist some day, "Al," if you practice on all pieces as you did the "Four Leaf Clover."

MARGUERITE LOCKE FELLOWS, SANDWICH

"R"

Y. W. C. A. (1); Sigma Sigma Kappa Phi (1); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Few hearts like hers with virtue warmed"

Few heads with knowledge so informed."

A diligent worker, a comrade to all and a girl who drives away the gloom with her happiness and cheer.

CLAUDIA FULLERTON, NASHUA

Keene Chorus Club (1); Nashua Club (1)

"Sober, but not serious"

Quiet, but not idle."

We know that Claudia will be a big success in her kindergarten work. The only difficulty will be she may be mistaken for one of her kiddies. In spite of her youthful countenance she is a very serious minded and studious little person.

GLADYS FOLLANSBEE, MANCHESTER

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2)

"Her modest answer and graceful air"

Show her as wise as she is fair."

Gladys is another of the Manchester girls who has been so well liked at K. N. S. Sweet and demure she seems, yet who could forget her?

BLANCHE PEARL GAUTHIER, MANCHESTER

Nature Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Keene History Club (2)

"Honor lies in honest toil."

Blanche, perhaps better known as the shorter half of "Long and Short," is studious and quiet. She has but one noisy occupation—opening ginger ale bottles.

DORIS GLINES, MANCHESTER

"Dorie"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Kronicle Board (2)

"And thy deep eyes amid the gloom, Shine like jewels in a shroud."

Doris bubbles over with spontaneous joy and laughter. She's destined to be a sympathetic and understanding teacher, loved by pupils and friends. Her hobby? Is there a dog in Keene that has not been praised by Doris?

DOROTHY VIRGINIA GOODALE, MANCHESTER

"Dottie"; "Goodie"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"A tender heart, a will inflexible"

"Goodie" is the girl who's forever getting specials. She'll always be remembered as the brave soul who said "Oh, I can make it in a minute and a half."

KATHRYN GOONAN, MANCHESTER
"Kaye"
 De La Salle Club (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2);
 Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
 "Gracious in her manners, winning in her ways."
 "Kaye" is rather quiet and so much a part of the Manchester "gang" that only her most intimate friends know her well. It is unfortunate that more of us couldn't live in Manchester.

HELEN G. GRASS, HANOVER
"Honey"
 Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Nature Club (1) (2); Vice-President (1) (2)
 "Procrastination is the thief of time?"
 At least, it is often the thief of Helen's time. Is it this leisurely way of doing her work that gives her such a calm, serene manner? If so, would that we all were thus!

LAURA JENNIE GREEN, WESTMORELAND
"Greenie"
 Keene Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Sigma Sigma Kappa Phi (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
 "A day for toil, an hour for sport,
 But for a friend life is too short."
 Greenie is one who is admired and respected by all.
 Alas and alack, Greenie, do you really like Easter Balls for what they are, or is there some other reason? Here's hoping your motto, "a friend in need is a friend indeed," will continue to bring you happiness.

EDNA HARDING, CLAREMONT
 Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
 "Each day finds her ever the same, Blondness and sweetness give her fame."
 This is why Edna has found it easy to make so many friends. It would be difficult indeed not to be won by her friendliness and charm.

DOROTHY MAY HAWKINS, BERLIN
"Dot"
 Y. W. C. A. (1); Outing Club (1) (2); A. A. (1) (2)
 "To know her is a privilege."
 "Dot" always has a smile and a cheerful word for everyone. She has helped brighten up many a dull moment at K. N. S.

HARRIET ISABELLE HEMPHILL, PETERBORO
"Happy"
 Archery Club (1); Athletic Association (2); Outing
 Club (2)
 "If the world be worth thy winning, Think, O think, it worth enjoying."
 Studious and ambitious, yet witty and a good friend,
 We envy you that black curly hair and disposition.

HELEN ELIZABETH HOSKING, CLAREMONT
"Peg"
 Glee Club (1) (2); Chapel Choir (2); Outing Club (1)
 (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)
 "We are charmed by neatness of person, Let not thy hair be out of order."
 Without a doubt, "Peg" takes the above very much to heart—for did you ever see even one stray lock among her pretty tresses? Behold this brown-eyed, optimistic, clever maiden who treads the corridors of Huntress, pausing in the social room to sing us entrancing melodies, accompanied most brilliantly by "Peg," herself, at the ivories. "Peg," by the way, is a daily subscriber for the N. H. U. Manuscript.

MARJORIE WALCH HUTCHINSON, MANCHESTER
"Marge"
 Sigma Sigma Kappa Phi (1) (2), Secretary (2); Manchester Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)
 "She is a maiden sweet and coquettish."
 A girl with "Marge's" smiles and dimples couldn't be otherwise. Smiles help a lot, going to Manchester on a rainy day, don't they, "Marge"?

MARY LEHLA JAMROG, MANCHESTER
 De La Salle (1); Manchester Club (1) (2); Outing
 Club (2); Athletic Association (2)
 "Is thy name Mary, maiden fair?
 Such should, methinks, its music be;
 The sweetest name that mortals bear
 Were best befitting thee."
 Where can you find a more reliable, trustworthy girl?
 That isn't all, for she can chuckle an evening away, too. Witty at times and sober at others, but always the same dear Mary.

HELEN T. KEEFE, NORTH WALPOLE
"Keefe"
 Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2);
 De La Salle (1) (2)
 "Mirth, admit me of thy crew"
 Those who do not know "Keefe" hasten to make her acquaintance. Chase troubles away? She has that magnetic something that compels every tiny, pessimistic elf to scamper in her presence. There's always a good time when "Keefe" is around.

ALICE PAULINE KELLEY, CANAAN
"Kelley"; "Polly"
 Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2);
 Forum (1) (2); Dramatic Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (1)
 "In all things mindful not of herself, but bearing the burden of others."
 A true friend, ready and willing at all times to be of service, is Polly. Your friends will certainly miss your cheerful, helpful companionship, next year.

MARY EUNICE KIDDER, MANCHESTER
"Skipper"
 Manchester Club (1) (2); De La Salle Club (1) (2), Secretary; Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing
 Club (1) (2)
 "To 'Skipper,' wherever she is, life is, for she is life itself."
 She has been one of the most popular girls in school.
 A winning smile and smiling eyes have won for "Sky" many a friend. The present bids well for a brilliant future, "Skipper!"

RACHEL LANE, STRATHAM
"Ray"
 Y. W. C. A. (1); Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)
"Come, pensive Nien, Sober, steadfast and demure."
 Quiet and unassuming—excellent qualities in a teacher. Here's hoping for continued success, Ray.

ETHEL F. LANGLEY, DOVER
"Al"
 Y. W. C. A. (2); Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)
"Energetic, Thrifty, Happy, Ernest, Lovable."
 Yes, Al is one who possesses all these qualities. Responsible, yet ready for fun. What else could one ask for in a good sport?

HENRIETTA E. LARY, GORHAM
"Sister"; "Sis"
 Dramatic Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
"Friend more divine than all divinities"
"Sis" with her roguish, brown eyes, and her vivaciousness has gained a warm spot in all our hearts. We will always remember the night when, as the deaf, old grandma, in "Grandma Pulls the String," she proved to us her ability as an actress.

EDITH LITTLEFIELD, PORTSMOUTH
"Eddie"
 Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)
"Quiet, serene, but full of fun."
"Eddie" seems to be very quiet but when we know her better we find her very lively. She has made a great success of her practice teaching, and we are sure that she'll succeed in her "chosen career."

DORIS CLARICE LOCKE, BERLIN
"Dot"
 Athletic Association (2); Y. W. C. A. (1); Outing Club (2); Glee Club (2); Keene Chorus Club (1)
"In music lies her charm."
"Dot" is one of the retiring girls in our class. She has been presented with a gift of music but has been so modest in using this precious talent that, only her closest friends have been fortunate enough to enjoy it.

NELLIE R. LYNCH, HILL
"Bubbles"
 Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2); Forum (2); Y. W. C. A. (2)
 Marching armies and affairs of state
 Could not her sweetness one bit abate.
 Heights sublime she strives to reach
 Keen to all her knowledge teach.

RUTH PIERSON McCAFFERY, PORTSMOUTH
"Mac"
 Dramatic Club (1) (2), Treasurer (1); "K" Club (2); Hockey (1); Outing Club (1) (2)
"Her eyes, bluer than the skies"
 Personality—plus,
 Charm—plenty of it,
 A good sport—watch her play.
 Brains and some to spare,
 Wonderful to look at,
 She's all O. K., Ruth McCaffery.

MARION LOUISE McLAM, TOPHAM, VT.
 Athletic Association (2); Y. W. C. A. (2); Vermont Club (2); Outing Club (2)
"The noonday quiet holds the hill."
 She's rather a quiet person, but she does not lack fun and laughter with which to balance this quiet dignity. How she makes so many friends may be a mystery. If you wish to know how she keeps them, just join them.

KATHERINE S. MACY, BERLIN
"Kay"
 Le Petit Salon (1) (2), Secretary (2); Glee Club (1) (2); Melody Sextette (1); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); A. A. (1), Treasurer (1)
"Soft is the music that would charm forever."
 Kay is the class nightingale and she has sung her way into the heart of K. N. S. Her role as "Esther" in our first outstanding musical production was a most brilliant success. Don't forget to broadcast your debut, "Kay"—we'll all listen in.

MARY EUGENIA MADDOX, NASHUA
 Outing Club (1) (2); Nashua Club (1) (2); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)
*"She is gentle, she is shy
 But there's mischief in her eye."*
 Who having heard Mary's "giggle" and having seen her tickling the ivories as she delightfully entertains us between periods at the "Gym"—has not had the desire to know her better? Recall the jolly times at K. N. S. Mary, and remember here's L-U-C-K to you.

PIA MAGNANI, FITZWILLIAM DEPOT
"Pete"
 Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
"These delights, if thou canst give Mirth, with thee I mean to live."
"Pete," one of our worthy commuters, is always welcomed about campus because of her cheerful countenance and witty remarks. Success can be predicted because of her outstanding work as a rural cadet.

CHARLOTTE JOSEPHINE MASON, OSSISPEE
"Chi"
 Glee Club (1); Keene Chorus Club (1); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Outing Club (2)
"A quiet person—when not otherwise."
"My home-town is a conversational asset," says "Chi." "If you tell people you're from a place like Manchester they say, 'Oh, yes,' and the conversation is ended. But if you tell them you're from Ossipee they ask, 'Where's that?' and at once you have something to talk about." And then—someone else gave a chapel talk on Ossipee before "C. J." got a chance.

LILLIE M. MELLEN, NEWPORT
Outing Club (1) (2)

"Industrious and working—
Did you ever see her shirking?"

If you ever enter Lillie's room you will always find her studying or "lesson-planning." She will always greet you with a smile but just ask her to do that "Vandetta" walk.

GUNDRUM MICHELSON, WASHINGTON, D. C.

"Gerry"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2);
De La Salle (1)

Deep blue eyes running over with glee,
Happy but temperamental is she,
A miss beloved by everyone.
She'll make you see that While there's life, there's fun.
Whether its joking, dancing, teaching,
You're sure to find out in the end
There was n'er a girl like "Gerry"
To have for a real true friend.

IRMA IDELLA MIDDLETON, ATTLEBORO, MASS.

"Squirm"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)
"A well disposed nature joined with a lovely feature."
Petiteness, big blue eyes and a boyish bob taken separately are not unusual. It was a combination of these, in Irma, that enabled us to distinguish her from the rest of the freshmen class of 1927.

DORIS MONTGOMERY, MILFORD

"Dot"; "Dottie"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
Objective: To appreciate one of the kindergarten girls.
Activities:

- A. Approach: Sweet face, nice personality, winning smile.
B. Problem: To make a speedy acquaintance with "Dottie."
C. Essential points.
1. "Dot"—One of the gang at Fowler Annex.
2. Devouring mid-night lunches.
3. Fun in room 38, Huntress.

Summary: A girl we are glad to have known.

DORIS MULLEN, MANCHESTER

A. A. (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Dramatic Club (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2); Archery Club (2)

"From little sparks may burst a mighty flame."
"Dot" has made herself well known through her part in "Grandma Pulls the Strings," her readings and her giggle. We all know her laughter, at Huntress.

ERLENE MURDOUGH, HILLSBORO

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2);
Y. W. C. A. (1)

"Her lovely form, her native ease,
All harmony and grace."

Have you ever seen a tall, graceful girl walking calmly about the campus? That is Erlene, although you may have thought it was her sister. Her quiet grace and amiability are treasured by those who know her.

ILENE MURDOUGH, HILLSBORO

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2);
Y. W. C. A. (1) (2)

"To doubt her fairness were to want an eye,
To doubt her pureness were to want a heart."

Irene has that asset of being both studious and fair. Her smile always speaks a word for her, even though she is rather quiet. Then too, she has something which few of us are fortunate enough to possess. Don't you know? Why, her twin sister!

LOLA MARIE MUZZIOLE, PLYMOUTH, MASS.

"Lo"; "Muzzy"

Freshmen Hockey (1); Athletic Association (1) (2);
Outing Club (1) (2)

"Be thine with airy steps to trace some bright and sunny way."

In "Lo" we find the inspiring personality that lacks none of the qualities that go to make up the ideal teacher, steadfast friend, and athlete. We all admire her deep, brown eyes, her understanding sympathy, and her reserved dignity; all of which do not prevent her from being one of our best dancers.

MARION E. NELSON, ROCHESTER

Nature Club (1) (2); Treas. Nature Club (2); Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Do not delay. Do not delay; the golden minutes fly."

Marion's motto is "Be always on time." No one can deny that she has been a most punctual and conscientious student. But does she always work? Oh, no—she has her share of fun, and what does she enjoy better than doing some kindly turn for some one else?

ESTHER GWENDOLYN NETSCH, MANCHESTER

"Est"; "Gwennie"

Manchester Club (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2); Sigma Sigma Kappa Phi (1)

"She entertains a cheerful disposition"

"Gwennie" is one of many girls from Manchester, but there is no other who possesses any finer qualities. We all know that she loves her home city, but we wonder if that is the reason she spends so many weekends there.

LOUISE NUTTER, FARMINGTON

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"A modest maid am I."

Those who know Louise will agree that she is a quiet, retiring sort of person. You are always aware of her presence, however, because of her satisfying height.

EVA OLMSTEAD, KEENE

"In friendship I early was taught to believe."

Ready for fun? Any day and every day—that's Eva! Although from Keene, she has often invaded the halls of Huntress. How often have we heard her merry laughter ringing through its corridors. Good luck to you, Eva.

ISABELLE PARKER, SOUTH LONDONDERRY, VT.

"Izy"

Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)

"Soft, who comes here?"

Under her quiet exterior, we discover a combination of seriousness and good humor. She is a hard worker, good sport and the best of pals—the kind of a girl who can't help possessing friends. We wonder where "Izy" spends her week ends and why?

BERTHA M. PATENAUDE, WINCHESTER

"Pat"

Dramatic Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); De La Salle (1) (2); Assistant Personal Editor Kronicle (2)

"If one life shines, the life next to it will catch the light."

How often are we all amazed at the amount of energy, friendliness, sweetness and dramatic ability combined in this one small person! Who, after having seen "Twelfth Night" with our "Pat" as "Maria," would not be willing to see it again on its twelfth night?

SYBIL ALLEN PECK, EAST JAMAICA, VT.

"Sib"

Outing Club (2); Vermont Club (1) (2)

"There are some silent people who are more interesting than the best talkers."

"Sib" is a quiet girl but her friends know that she is very interesting. She simply must inhale the evening air before seeking repose. "Good evening, 'Sib'."

HELEN SYLVIA PERLEY, GOFFSTOWN

"Blossoms"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)
 "The most manifest sign of wisdom is cheerfulness."
 Congenial Helen needs no word of introduction. A ready smile, a willingness to help and an ability to work have given her a place in Keene Normal.

JEAN PERRY, CHARLESTOWN

"Jeanie"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Glee Club (1); Keene Chorus Club (1); Nature Club (1) (2)

"The world loves a smiler."

K. N. S. and 1929 have enjoyed "Jeanie's" frank and lovable nature. She has proved herself a creditable and capable student and teacher. Many are her charms. Who could resist her ever-ready smile which brings into view "that dimple?"

DOROTHY ELIZABETH PHILBRICK, FREMONT

"Dot"; "Phil"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Lots of pep and full of fun, Dot's a friend to everyone."

Most people who know "Dot" immediately associate her with a piano or a curling iron. Of her many qualities a picture won't tell, her friends will.

ELEANOR GLADYS PIKE, MANCHESTER

"El"

De La Salle (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2), Secretary (2)

"Her friends they are many Her foes, are there any?"

"El" has a very cheerful nature. This is the reason that she has made so many friends during her two years at K. N. S. We know that she will succeed and reach the highest goal, with her sunny smile.

JOSEPHINE M. PINSKA, MANCHESTER

"Joe"; "Pinsky"

Keene Chorus Club (2); De La Salle (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2)

"The surest sign of wisdom is continued cheerfulness."

Who is this fair-haired girl who leaves happiness in her wake? Cheerful and happy-go-lucky is "Joe." Here's hoping for success with such assets as wit and cheerfulness to make the way easier.

LOIS ANGELA PITCHER, KEENE

"Lo"

"Light blue eyes has this little lass,
 Eyes dancing with mirth in every class;
 A winning smile that cheers you so—
 Everything nice about our "Lo."

Not everyone who is endowed with such a happy disposition keeps it always to the front, as does "Lo."

GERTRUDE M. PLUMMER, DERRY

"Trudy"

Outing Club (2); Athletic Association (2); Y. W. C. A. (2)

"Still waters run deep."

"Trudy," her classmates will tell you, is sure to succeed. She has been faithful in all her school connections and deserves the happy future that we wish her.

BERNICE ADENA RAY, BARTON, VT.

"Bunny"

Athletic Association (2); Vermont Club (2); Outing Club (2)

"Quiet, dignified, but always ready for fun"

Bridge, did you say? Go ask our "Bunny" Ray. "Bunny" has been most successful as a captor of friends. You see, under her quietness and dignity, a fun loving person. To these combined charms we have been helpless victims.

JOSEPHINE MARY ROWE, CHARLESTOWN

"Joe"

Glee Club (1) (2); Chorus Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Class President (2)

"One of the kindergarten students is "Jo,"

Who always to us appears just so Friendly and pleasant, gay and fun,
 We're sorry her stay at Keene Normal is done."

"Joe" is one of our best beloved classmates and president of the two year seniors, which proves her popularity. May the bonds of friendship made at K. N. S. grow stronger with the passing years!

MARION RUSSELL, GREENFIELD
"Rus"; "Rusty"; "Russie"
 Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2);
 Nature Club (1) (2)
 What three words describe our "Rus's" best characteristics? How about these?
 R—Reliability,
 U—Understanding,
 S—Service.

MARION SCHRIEBER, PLYMOUTH, MASS.
"Fre"
 Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2);
 Nature Club (1) (2)
 "Joy rises in me, like a summer's morn."
 That it is all sunshine, never any clouds, with "Freckles," you can tell by a glance at her eyes. They are always atwinkle with mischief and fun.

LOUISE ERNESTINE SCHULTZ, SALEM
"Lou"
 Glee Club (2); Outing Club (2); Athletic Association (2)
 "As gay as the lark, as wise as the owl"
 If all of Lou's pleasing assets were to be tabulated, Elinor Glyn's "It" would fade rapidly from the limelight. A few of "Lou's" enticing properties are: attractiveness, cleverness, humor, sociability, musical talent and big heartedness.

MILDRED EVELYN SENECAL, DERRY
"Millie"
 De La Salle (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2);
 Outing Club (2)
 "Tall and striking—who is that woman?"
 Weren't we proud of Millie as class marshal? Yet we are still more proud of her friendship. Millie has a smile and friendly word for everyone. This is one reason for her popularity with both faculty and students.

MILDRED ARLENE SHAW, LEBANON
"Milly"
 Y. W. C. A. (1); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing
 Club (1) (2)
 "A little woman, though a very little thing,
 Is sweeter far than sugar, and flowers in spring."
 Well, Milly, what time did you get up this morning? People say it's the early bird that catches the worm. If that holds true, Milly will certainly make a success at something.

LILLIAN GERTRUDE SHEA, MANCHESTER
"Lil"
 De La Salle (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2); Dramatic Club (1) (2); Glee Club (1)
 "Lots of pep and full of fun, Lil's a friend to everyone."
 "Lil" certainly does credit to old Keene Normal. Everywhere on the campus one is greeted with Lil's cheery, "Hi." Her hobby is dancing and when she isn't tripping the light fantastic, she is making the walls of Huntress re-echo with "Wedding Bells" or "I'm Sorry, Sally." We expect great things from "Red."

MADELEINE CECILIA SHEA, MANCHESTER
"Mad"
 De La Salle (1) (2); Manchester Club (1) (2); Outing
 Club (1) (2)
 "To her the gods gave talent,
 And the great gift of making friends."
 "Mad" possesses remarkable musical ability which we certainly have enjoyed. She has helped us to while away many a dull hour with her playing.

DOROTHY SIMMONS, CHARLESTOWN
"Dot"
 Glee Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2);
 Nature Club (1) (2)
 "Like music on the waters is her sweet voice to us."
 There's a lot of determination in "Dot." When she makes up her mind to do a thing she does it—hence her success as a "Rural Cadet."

HELEN MARY SKILL, CLAREMONT
"Skilly"
 Glee Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Sigma Sigma Kappa Phi (1) (2), Secretary (1)
 "Happy and beaming,
 Jolly and gay,
 Sporting a smile
 All the live-long day."
 "Skilly's" smile is contagious. What a beaming row of pupils we visualize! For you, our class secretary, we foresee a bright future.

THALIA LOUISE SLOAN, ENFIELD
"Sloan"; "Rip"
 Athletic Association (2); Outing Club (2)
 "Buxom, blithe and gay was she"
 Who doesn't recognize Thalia's jolly laugh and good natured countenance? Thalia, with her keen sense of humor is a welcome member to any group. We are glad she chose Keene Normal for her last year of school.

OLIVE JENKS SMITH, GOPPSTOWN
"Smitty"
 Y. W. C. A. (1); Athletic Association (2); Outing
 Club (2)
 "The cheerful man carries with him perpetually, in his presence and personality, an influence that acts upon others as summer warmth on the fields and forests."
 As a rural cadet, "Smitty" was a great success because she entered into both work and play with the same earnestness and cheerfulness. These are the qualities to help you along in that other school, life.

CLARA PEARL SMITH, NEWFIELDS
"Chubby"; "Smithy"
 President of Nature Club (2); Keene Chorus Club (1);
 Glee Club (1); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Nature Club (1) (2)
 A twinkle in her eye,
 While on her lips a smile.
 This, no one dares deny—
 Her disposition's hard to rife.
 "Chubby" is always welcome any where, at any time. Why? Oh, she's the life of the party. This fun loving girl takes her profession seriously, however, as is proven by her scholastic standing.

KATHERINE ELIZABETH SWEENEY, NASHUA

"Kaye"

De La Salle (1) (2); Nashua Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (2)

"She is pretty to walk with, and witty to talk with, and pleasant, too, to think on."

Anybody can make friends—but it's vastly different to make them and keep them as "Kaye" has during her stay at K. N. S. This happy-go-lucky Irish lassie, with her unflinching good-nature and ready sympathy has been a delightful classmate.

ELIZABETH ELLEN TATE, ELLSWORTH FALLS, ME.

"Betty"; "Teddy Bate"

Y. W. C. A. (2); Rifle Club (2); Outing Club (2); A. A. (2)

"Betty" may live on the third floor in Fiske, but that doesn't make her "high hat" in the least. She certainly is the most obliging person to all who ask her help, whether it be to spell a word or eat a sandwich!

MARION M. TESSIER, NASHUA

"Tess"; "Teaser"

Outing Club (1) (2); Vice-President Nashua Club (1); Athletic Association (1) (2); Nashua Club (1) (2)

"A face with gladness overspread!
Soft smiles, by human kindness bred!"

"Tess'" greeting is always a cheerful smile which is the keynote of her happy disposition. Love of her work makes her a most conscientious student, but never a grind, as her good times at K. N. S. are many. "A tall woman can see further than a short one." Ask her roommate!

EVELYN THURBER, WEST BRATTLEBORO, VT.

"Ev"

Y. W. C. A. (1); Nature Club (1) (2); Vermont Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"A heart to resolve, a head to contrive, and a hand to execute."

"Ev" is another of our Vermont girls, quiet, demure, studious, and ever a loving friend. We know she will make good as a teacher.

MARY ELIZABETH TOBIN, NORTH WEYMOUTH, MASS.

"Red"; "Mae"

De La Salle (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

Mae has a giggle pianissimo,
It's as sweet as it can be,
But somehow it's strangely fortissimo
In making friends, you see."

Attractive did you say? Superlatively so. Her glorious halo of auburn hair can be equaled in beauty only by her own sparkling blue eyes. "Mae" is one of our outstanding Normalites.

HELENE TOWLE, PETERBORO

"Skid"

Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)
"Skid" has changed entirely since she came to Normal. She has been a good sport always, but lately has turned her thoughts to more serious study. She is one girl who as a cadet was not disturbed by rural life. Why do you like to tease, "Skid"?

BEULAH TWITCHELL, GORHAM

"Babe"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Sigma Sigma Kappa Phi (1)

"With learned mein
She burns the midnight kerosene."

But Beulah said it was late! "Hm—didn't you know Twitchell's time is always early?" Faithful and conscientious—you are always early for work or for play. We knew what we were about when we chose Beulah for vice-president.

EILEEN WELCH, MANCHESTER

Nature Club (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"A joke's a very serious thing"

Eileen is so much like her room-mate in characteristics, that it's difficult to remember which name to call which girl. We always think of her as the longer member of that famous "Long and Short" Combination.

ROWENA WERDEN, HENNIKER

Outing Club (2); Athletic Association (2)

"Fair as a star, when only one Is shining in the sky."

Although Rowena is a busy person she always has a spare minute for a smile. Her friends will always keep a warm place for her in their hearts.

MARY EVELYN WESTNEY, ACWORTH

"Marie"

Outing (2); Athletic Association (2)

"Not much talk—a great sweet silence."

"Marie" is one of those quiet, hard-working practice-teachers at Wheelock, one of that large group whose low groans and hectograph ink fill Huntress.

DORIS JANE YORK, NEWPORT

"Doris Jane"

Outing Club (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2)

"Never idle a moment but thrifty and thoughtful of others."

"Doris Jane" shares with her roommate the reputation of always having everything done on time. By the way, Doris is the one with the contagious giggle.

CHRISTINA MAE YOUNG, CLAREMONT

"Chris"

Y. W. C. A. (1) (2); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2)

"Silent and chaste she steals along,
Far from the world's gay, busy throng."

We haven't heard much from "Chris." She is refreshing in this world of chatter. Would that we all were so self controlled.

BLANCHE HILDA YOUNG, HUDSON

"Babe"

Glee Club (1); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2); Nashua Club (1) (2)

"Happy am I, from care I'm free,
Why aren't they all contented like me?"

Those who haven't heard of Hilda's experiences cannot be very well acquainted with her, for that young lady is always having experiences. If you expect to associate with Hilda for any length of time, you'd better purchase a Webster's dictionary; she has a great fondness for flowery language.

MABEL EVA YOUNG, WINCHESTER

"Mabe"

Nature Club (1); Athletic Association (1) (2); Outing Club (1) (2); Glee Club (1) (2); Keene Chorus Club (1) (2)

"Gentle to others, to herself severe!"

Mabel is another of those fine, faithful students of whom K. N. S. is so proud. She is always willing to share her learning with those less fortunate. She has the confidence and ability necessary to every good teacher.

COLLEGE GRADUATE COURSE

MARTHA JANE HILL, KEENE

"A cheerful life is what the muses love,
A soaring spirit is their prime delight."

Martha is another graduate student who has been with us only a year. Although she confesses that she's "not much good at remembering figures," she has taken part in some lively discussions in Sociology.

RUTH MELVINA McEVOY, HENNIKER

"Mack"

Forum; Y. W. C. A.; Varsity Hockey; Basketball Squad; "K" Club

"Thus will thy life be here
Not marked by noise, but by success alone."

"Mack" came to us from Colby College only this year so we haven't had much time to get acquainted, but we shudder to think of the space her list of activities would take up if she had been here four years.

HISTORY OF FOUR YEAR CLASS

Parents, undergraduates, and class, lend me your ears;
I come to praise the four year seniors, not to blame them.
The good that classes do lives after them.
The evil should be forgotten with their gowns.
So let it be with us. For school records
Will tell you that the class was ambitious.
If it were so we are justly proud.
And will maintain our pride in future days.
Here, under leave of Daddy Mason and the rest,
For Daddy Mason stands behind us.
So do all the faculty stand there too.
Come I to speak at class day exercises.
Sixteen of us came here with many more
In September, four long years ago.
And the school gave us a welcome to its doors.
Our first short year was spent in making friends,
In showing what such freshmen could do well.
And hard we worked at our studying too.
Again we came back to welcome others,
And further prove our worth at Keene Normal.
The faculty did say we were not stupid.
And they are honorable men and women.
You all did know that in athletics,
Drama, and debating we were represented.
Did not that show our worth, I ask?
The third year was so short, with teaching on
Our minds, and parting friends so dear.
Then came the promise of degrees to those
Who would remain another year at school.
We sixteen did love it here; we stayed
And surely you see that was ambitious.
Oh, knowledge, that we gained this final year,
Our work has lost its terrors,
Bear with me;
For four long years our hearts have been on campus.
And here we pause to think of leaving it.
Farewell to all our haunts and friends.
Farewell to you our Alma Mater dear.

—Elizabeth McCoy.

HISTORY OF THREE YEAR SENIORS

History, it is said, repeats itself. If this is true, should the history of the three year seniors go down in print? Yes! for to us, the participants and makers of that history, it is of vital importance and bears much significance. To relate the many battles and struggles, with both victory and defeat for those conscientiously struggling toward a definite goal, to give praise and honor to those deserving it, and to reminisce in a general way, those happy by-gone days—this is the purpose of history. Therefore, allow me to present to you a brief history of the Three Year Seniors of 1929—in three volumes.

VOLUME I—ORIENTATION

Amid a disagreeable down-pour of rain, the Freshmen of 1926, timidly embarked upon the ship of Professional Education and Training, Keene Normal School, by name. Here they were to begin to sail a, not always even, clear sailing course, but a definite one with a definite port or goal.

The second day, after trunks were unpacked, these same Freshmen attended their first but memorial classes. I have often wondered if the instructors, that day, sighed at the task set before them. If they did, it was silently done; for they attempted, in a most cheerful and helpful manner, to help us to orient ourselves. We have not forgotten their kindness.

This first year revealed to us the customs and traditional affairs of the school,—such as—the Hallowe'en Party, the yearly masquerade, and the Mid-Year Ball, which few attended, but many watched. We were also introduced into the various, desired clubs and became, as it were, understudies who were to shine in future time.

From the beginning, fate seemed to decree that this group should excel in athletics. The boys to have their share in football and basketball, the girls in hockey. Who will forget that Freshman team, which proved its worth by becoming the Champion Team of the school? In basketball too, our girls participated in an honorable manner, bearing in mind that thrilling, long awaited game with our rival—Plymouth Normal. No less thrilling was the famous, and yearly Plymouth-Keene debate.

All too soon the year was over and we were saying good-bye—some to leave for good—some to return. Time alone would tell who would continue upon this happy course—now that we were acquainted with our ship and its captain.

VOLUME II—CONTINUATION

Another year on the sea of knowledge! We return with happy greetings for our friends. With our past experience, as a guide, we plunge into the work ahead of us.

For honors in athletics, dramatics and debating, we cast our bait and many were successful. Who would overlook the excellent play "The Goose Hangs High" and other minor plays? Moreover, many of our capable members learned responsibility by personal contact, through the coaching of various freshman plays. In debating, we recall the Fitchburg and Plymouth intellectual fights, which proved both thrilling and interesting.

During the entire year we eagerly watched the construction of our new Gymnasium—the gift of Ex-Governor Spaulding. We rejoiced in its progress. No one regretted the departure of the old barn or the momentary disfiguring of our beloved campus. We merely said "To what end?" And joyfully accepted it. It meant a greater opportunity for indoor activity than we had enjoyed this year.

The end of the second year was approaching. With it, came the R. O. T. C. dance, an event never to be forgotten—often to be recalled. What a gathering it proved to be. One hall was not sufficient to hold the crowd. Youth and gaiety held sway that night and a pleasant time it proved to be.

At graduation we did our part in making it a happy memory for our senior friends. This was to be a dignified occasion because degrees were to be granted for the first time at K. N. S. But at last it is over and once again we disembark, carrying with us many memories of this, our second voyage on the ship of professional knowledge.

VOLUME III—SEPARATION

From the very starting point of our third year Sept. 11, 1928, we realized that this year was a year of separation—a beginning of the end. It was impressed upon us when we found that quite a few of our members had decided to take the new four-year course. Of course we admired their ambition, yet we hated to lose them. Again, by the loss of some of our beloved members and through a divisional separation of those left, some to teach, some to study.

In spite of everything, however, we assumed the roll of dignified seniors and did our best to successfully fulfill all expectations. We bravely faced the all essential and required duty of practice-teaching. Recall that first day at Junior High! Here again I stop to wonder if the Critic Teachers, as they gazed upon us that day, sighed at the task set before them.

Our eighteen weeks of study were combined with many pleasures. The first week of school saw the dedication of the new Spaulding Gymnasium—the pride of both Faculty and Student-body. This structure was to furnish us many, and happy memories; the Mid-Year Ball, the most dignified of its kind; the Masquerade Ball, and those numerous Saturday night dances and entertainments in which all gladly participated. It also furnished us with the necessary equipment for Physical Education and no senior regrets that they had a year in which to enjoy it.

The Basketball and debating schedules, showing the many and varied contests with numerous colleges, gave to K. N. S. the aspect of a real Teachers College. We rejoice as our graduation draws near that we, the three year seniors, have seen such fast growth in our Alma Mater.

Thus on this our graduation day—the history of this class is ended as a group but not as individuals. As we leave we give a sincere parting cry to our ship—K. N. S., to its captain, "Daddy Mason," to the officers, our faculty, and to the crew—our fellow undergraduates.

"Sail on! We're proud of you!"

—Erma M. Eaton.

HISTORY OF THE ELEMENTARY CLASS

We have arrived at the end of the road. That two-year road which we saw stretching far ahead of us on that first day early in the fall of 1927. Away from home and in new surroundings, harvested from every lane and garden of New Hampshire, we bailed whatever Keene might have in store for us. What would being away to school be like? Some of us had never seen Keene, while others had never stepped foot on New Hampshire soil until then. Yes, it was a queer sensation, this business of adjusting ourselves!

It wasn't long before we were summoned to chapel where we met Mr. Mason and the faculty for the first time. They, too, wore the K. N. S. smiles which we had already noticed on the faces of our worthy Senior sisters. We listened to short speeches made by the various clergymen of the city who made us feel more at home. Also, plans were made for the picnic at the "Rec," Saturday. Who could feel strange or be homesick, now?

We must mention the picnic at the "Rec" that Saturday. We shall never forget that memorable day munching hot dogs under the Indian-summer clad trees. There again we felt that happy feeling among teachers, fellow-students, and friends. While at the park, we saw the plans for the new Spaulding Gym which many of us had already heard about. All year we had the privilege of watching the construction of this beautiful gift, and delighted in the fact that we would be one of the first classes to use it.

Then, before we realized it we were busy with our classwork and school activities. That meant initiation, and Freshmen initiation is something which no real Freshman looks forward to. Our Seniors spent much of their extra time getting us initiated, but always sugar-coated each experiment with some entertainment and delightful refreshments. Even the dreaded initiations were enjoyed in the spirit of K. N. S. However, it wasn't long before we were called to our respective firesides to share the family Thanksgiving dinner.

Back again for a few weeks! Then came Christmas vacation! Santa Claus certainly was good to us that Christmas to judge by the beaming-faces and enthusiasm of our returning classmates. We were all glad to get back, for the talking and rehashing is the best part of a spent vacation.

Now, we settled down once more to real winter dormitory life, punctuated and varied with good times here and there. One of the great events which loomed before us were examinations—yes, and the mid-year ball, the proceedings of which we had been duly instructed and warned by our upperclassmates.

"It must be quite an event," thought some serious-minded freshmen, "for lo! even the Seniors are off their dignity in thinking about it!"

Thus, it came off just as anticipated, and many a souvenir was carried home for those "Mem" books so bravely started.

Then, came Spring and the Nature walks to observe the crocuses and tulips making their first shy appearance on the Keene Normal campus. We now saw our Alma Mater unfold and bud in a new beauty.

All year we had ample opportunities to see and hear lectures, concerts, etc., on our Activity Tickets. In the joyous Maytime we saw another phase of Keene life, the musical Keene. We were presented with tickets for the performances of the great talented singers and musicians of New York. This was certainly a splendid opportunity for us all!

The late Spring days glided by and at last came the last week in June, at the close of which we bid farewell to our Seniors, saddened by the thought that we would see their faces no more among us.

The long summer passed, and soon we were back full-fledged Seniors ourselves. This time we were shuffled up and mixed about, until we found ourselves getting acquainted with our classmates of other divisions in the previous year. Some departed to the duties of rural practice teaching, while others busied themselves at Wheelock.

The Gym was dedicated and ready for use! The Spaulding Gym is the privilege and joy of every Keenite. Here it serves for all purposes as well as the athletic side of the school life. Here, we assemble on Mondays for our chapel exercises, here we hold our entertainments and dances. Here, we held the greatest event of the season, our Mid-Year Ball, and such a success it was!

Thus, our schooldays are over! Yes, but not in reality! That is the advantage of the teaching profession in being a teacher! You're always so close to the Fountain of Youth, and the atmosphere is contagious.

And years may come and years may go, but the seeds of love and respect which were sowed as Freshmen and transplanted as Seniors for our old K. N. S. will be firmly rooted in the hearts of every Keenite for all eternity.

THAT'S LIFE

Some laugh, and grin, and wink,
 Things are never on the blink;
 Care they never know, or strife.
 They joke, and play, and call it life.

Some there are who laugh aloud,
 Just because they are too proud
 To, low, 'tis one hard fight.
 They laugh spite all, and call it life.

Some there are who sorrow know,
 To hard luck all their blame they throw,
 They cannot see the light.
 They sorrow on, and call it life.

Some there are who, ill fate know,
 To others they don't tell it though;
 They're the ones who win the fight.
 They bear it all, and call it life.

NU BETA UPSILON

Nu Beta Upsilon is the Home Economics sorority which was established in 1920 to create the spirit of friendship and good-will among the girls in that department.

It is the custom to have a variety of entertainments and socials throughout the year so that the members may become well acquainted. This year we have given a Sorority Dance, sponsored a Tea Dance with the aid of the Alpha Pi Tau, given a Faculty Bridge Party and several socials for the members.

The initiation was a great success this year. Twenty new members joined the sorority. They have already proven worthy.

Standing: Lucille Thompson, Vanda Sanguinetti, George Chase, Esma Ford.

THE ORPHEUS

The Orpheus has assisted in various ways the musical life of our school. It has taken over the general management of entertainments by visiting artists, and sponsored some of the Saturday evening programs. Plans are under way for a Spring concert by this group of music supervisory students.

GLEE CLUB

The glee club under its new leader, Miss Catherine Lane, has delighted everyone by its tone quality, and by the variety of its selections. Shall we ever forget that Christmas Chapel when old carols, lent a new atmosphere, aided greatly by those intriguing costumes.

Our prophecy in regard to the activities of next year is most favorable, for we realize the material at hand, and the work our leader has accomplished this year.

GIRL'S GLEE CLUB

Second row: Edna Johnson, Esma Ford, Lucille Thompson, Alma Parks, Miss Lane, Evelyn Messer, Mary Keegan, Ethel Hillsgrove, Irene Blatchford, Sarah Priel.

Third row: Alberta Smith, Louise Sanborn, Alice Martin, Marion Skibicki, Louise Otis, Dorothea Batten, Dorothy Bresnahan, Helen Hosking, Muriel Aldrich, Violet Wight.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The men have had one of their best years in Glee Club history. The roll numbered about forty men, all of whom were blessed with good voices and a love for good music. The club appreciated very much the work of Mr. Davis in directing them and feel that he's right at home with a college glee club. Most of the members have also sung in either the Keene Chorus Club or "Esther."

CHAPEL CHOIR

With this year, under the competent direction of Miss Lane, has come the mixed choir which has long been a desire of "Daddy's." The choir has sung every Monday morning at chapel in the gym giving us many special selections besides the more uncommon hymns. Only singers from the school's best are selected. It is the hope of all that the Chapel Choir may be continued.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

This year the orchestra has enjoyed an advantage over previous years, being both larger and especially well-balanced. Under the excellent leadership of Mr. Harry Davis, and with each member eager to give his talent, time, and energy, it has become an organization worthy of the distinction received.

Many perhaps do not realize the large number of outside engagements at which the orchestra and orchestral groups, have gladly given their services. The majority of its members are underclassmen, and with the promise of new material next year the high standard set by this year's group can not help but be maintained.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR PRACTICE TEACHERS

1. Thou shalt have but one common cause and shalt not allow external distractions.
2. Thou shalt love thy critic teacher as thyself.
3. Keep holy the Fundamental Objective.
4. Honor the Practice School and keep its record clean.
5. Thou shalt not kill thy fellow-sufferers with bad criticisms.
6. Thou shalt not swipe thy neighbor's lesson-plans.
7. Thou shalt not take books from the school library and keep them in thy room.
8. Thou shalt not bear grudges against thy unfortunate pupils.
9. Thou shalt not stand idle at recess and noon hours, but keep thyself profitably employed.
10. Remember the day of marking is at hand, and thou shalt receive thy just dues according to thy attitude and responsibility.

MEN'S ATHLETICS

The students of K. N. S. are proud of what has been accomplished along athletic lines, within the last few years. Those of us who are about to graduate, remember with delight the many hours spent in the old gym two and three years ago. Last year, without an available gym we hesitate in wonder at the many good times and excellent sportsmanship of all.

But the year of 1928 and '29 has confronted us with new and unusual opportunities. The new gym, excellent equipment, ambitious students, an able Director of Athletics and the hearty cooperation of "Daddy" Mason has made for us a year of all years, worthwhile, and long to be remembered.

We feel with joy that at last we are able to cope with schools of our own size on an equal basis, not as one might expect, striving for the glory of winning, but ever keeping in mind the value of good sportsmanship and playing the game fairly and squarely.

We are especially proud of our football team, certainly the best that K. N. S. has ever produced. Much is to be expected of them in the Fall of '29.

Basketball, played in an entirely new style from that the boys had used before, offered new opportunities. Although the number of victories were not great, we are proud of the scoring against teams of prominence in the athletic world. Now, as the school year draws to a close, we look to baseball as a major sport. May the season be a successful one for K. N. S.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Under the direction of the new girls physical director, Miss Winona Robbins, and her assistant, Miss Adra Goodridge, the girls have had a rather successful season this year.

Soccer was introduced as a sport and interclass games were played. The freshmen and sophomores tied for championship.

The field hockey team played five games and was successful in three. They scored thirteen points to their opponent's six.

Although rather late in beginning the basketball season our girls showed their ability and enthusiasm in playing the seven games of their schedule. The prospects for next year are very promising since Capt. Neal is the only member of the team whom we lose by graduation.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

Second row: Mary Perkins, Helen Sawyer, Katherine Park, Merle Collins, Doris Barton, Mary Mayo.

RIFLE TEAM

Second row: Elizabeth Fletcher, Violet White, Mr. Hitchcock, Susan Crouch, Edna Foss.

During the winter this team, coached by Mr. Hitchcock, shot one of the most difficult schedules it has ever had. Opposition was teams representing 13 state colleges or universities and Trenton Normal School, all of which presented strong competition. They also tried something new this year—namely shooting against the Keene Boy Scout's team. Evelyn Warren, this year's manager is the only one of the team who graduates this year so everything points toward a successful season next year.

"K" CLUB

This is an organization of the young men and women who, through participation in a major sport at Keene Normal, have earned the school letter. The purposes of the club are:

1. To promote real Keene spirit.
2. To maintain Keene customs.
3. To aid and advance athletics.
4. To instill Keene spirit into the entering class.
5. To render service to the school whenever possible.

Under the splendid guidance of Miss Blake, Miss Shaw, and Miss Brooks, the Y. W. C. A. has had an unusually successful year.

The Tuesday evening meetings have proved to be entertaining as well as educational and we all feel grateful to the many members of the faculty who have co-operated with us.

The club was fortunate in having as its guest, Miss Katherine Butler, a National Student Secretary, during her tour of the eastern colleges.

The president attended the Northfield Conference in February and we hope that several members will be able to attend next year.

The social activities of the organization have included the Freshmen Reception, bridges, and teas, culminating in a May Breakfast.

THE FORUM

K. P. O., the debating society, is the oldest student organization in the school and one of the most active. Every Thursday evening we hold our meetings with debates and discussions of problems and topics of the day.

This year, through the influence of our new coach, Miss Edna McGlynn, we introduced something different. We sent a Freshman boys' team to debate with Boston University Freshmen on "Resolved that modern advertising is more detrimental than beneficial to society." This is a milestone in the progress of the men in the Forum and in the growing college standards of Keene Normal School.

This resolution is also the subject of our annual debate with Plymouth. A squad of twenty members has been working upon this question through the spring months.

In its social history for the year the Forum includes a fall picnic at the cottage at the "Rec" and the banquet, which was held at Bradford Inn in May.

Thus the Forum strives to carry out its ideals—to give the members confidence and ability in speaking, habits of straight thinking and fairness and a sportsmanlike spirit.

ESTHER

What was probably one of the most pretentious musical efforts ever made by the school was the presentation, before a large audience April 17, in the Spaulding Gymnasium, of the beautiful cantata Esther, by the combined boys' and girls' glee clubs under the direction of Harry W. Davis and Miss Catherine O'C. Lane.

This was not only a finished production with the principals in the cast and the choruses doing excellent work, both from a dramatic and musical standpoint, but the costumes and scenic effects were also in keeping with the high standard of the event.

Space will permit the mention of only a few of the many outstanding features. Catherine Macy in the role of Queen Esther, delighted everyone with her pleasing voice and interpretation not only in her solo numbers but in the duets. Lloyd Olmstead as Haman, and Ramos Feehan as Mordecai, displayed marked musical and dramatic ability. One of the individual features was Mr. Steady's "Song of the Beggar" which excelled in unusually fine dramatic action. The school was especially proud of the work of its one faculty representative, Mr. Blackington, as Ahasuerus the King.

The entire cast showed the result of careful training.

Several musicians of the city, expressed the opinion that this was one of Keene's outstanding musical treats of the year.

LE PETIT SALON

Nous nous réunissons deux fois par mois à la salle du club à Huntress Hall. Nous avons des programmes qui contiennent des chansons, musique, jeux et lectures de la vie française. Quelqu'un qui aime beaucoup le français et qui sait un peu, peut devenir un membre. C'est une grande joie.

Chaque année les membres ont un banquet ou nous nous amusons beaucoup. C'est comme ça que le programme de l'année est fermée. Puisse ce cercle soit un grand succès la prochaine année

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

The outstanding and noteworthy dramatic success of the school for this year was achieved, as always, by the Senior Dramatic Club, when it staged the four act comedy "A Tailor Made Man." This was ably coached by Mrs. Wallace, faculty advisor. She was assisted by Mr. Drenan and Mr. Gentsch who produced our first and very effective stage setting.

As a project the Senior Dramatic Club has most admirably initiated a full scholarship to be given to some worthy student. This is something of which the Club is manifestly and justly proud and for which it is highly commended.

The Vermont Club is composed of girls from the Green Mountain state. It tends to promote a feeling of good fellowship among Vermonters at K. N. S. The objective of the monthly meetings is to become more familiar with the resources of northern New England as a whole. This year the club brought to K. N. S. the movie entitled "The Keystone of the Century," which is the story of marble, one of the leading industries of the state.

This year the annual masquerade, sponsored by the Manchester club, came as a gala climax to a gala week-end home-coming! Black men danced with Indian girls, flower girls with clowns, ballet dancers with sailors, until an intermission was announced. Then the guests listened to a remarkably fine entertainment and joined with the members of the club in songs and cheers. Twelve o'clock came—the masquerade was over, but we'll remember it always!

DE LA SALLE

The De La Salle Club was formed a number of years ago for the purpose of bringing the Catholic girls of the school in closer relation that they might discuss the present day problems.

Besides enjoying the privilege of a Study Club, it has sponsored several successful entertainments during the past year, among which was the bridge and whist party held St. Patrick's night to add to the fund for the new parochial school. The "co-eds" helped a great deal in this entertainment. We chose this year the Misses Catherine Lane and Edna McGlynn as club advisors, with them and the able direction of Father Scott we have brought this year to a successful close.

Respectfully submitted,

Eunice Kidder.

Second row: Sara McKinney, Mary Keegan, George Stacy, Anne Crahan, Erma Eaton.

Third row: Mary Hall, Dorothy Ingham, Elizabeth Jones.

THE ACADEMY OF SCIENCE

The Academy of Science was organized four years ago. This year it has sponsored trips to Mt. Monadnock and West Hill, blazed the K. N. S. trail over West Hill, kept a weather report and taken care of the gold fish in the pond. Our regular meetings have been varied with a trip to the Granite State Studio, a trip to the x-ray room at the hospital, a trip to the Agassiz and Fogg museums at Cambridge, and moving pictures taken and presented by Mr. Scott, the contractor of the gym. All these have made this year most enjoyable and one long to be remembered by not only the Academy of Science but by the entire school.

The Alpha Pi Tau Fraternity is one of the two fraternal organizations of the Keene Normal School. It has carried on its fifth year of activities with a membership of fifty-one, an increase of eleven over last year.

This year the fraternity has been interested in many new undertakings. It has sponsored the first reception to the freshmen, which was considered one of the most successful events of the fraternity calendar. Alpha men have been the leaders in the social and athletic life of the school. The new system of scholastic check-up, under the direction of the secretary has been very effective. Due to the untiring efforts of the editor Curlic Gauthier and his staff, "The Alpha" has had a successful year.

In the fraternity's selection of candidates, it has aimed to secure men of high standing, both socially and scholastically. The result of this year's choice has been of substantial aid to the fraternity in carrying out its ideals and purposes.

Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. and Mrs. Cutts for the care and interest they have shown for the boys. They have made A. P. T. house home-like in every detail.

As our brothers leave us for the teaching profession, we wish them success and God speed; may they ever carry the high ideals of the School and Fraternity into their teaching.

KAPPA DELTA PHI FRATERNITY

The Gamma Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi Fraternity is in truth a real organization. It has the great advantage of being a National Fraternity whose principles are based on the creation and preservation of an interest in teaching, and a professional spirit in educational work.

Seven years ago this Gamma Chapter was organized and has grown from its original five charter members to a present quota of seventy-eight.

The Fraternity House is located on Appian Way, adjoining the grounds of the beautiful new gymnasium, given the school by Ex-Governor Huntley N. Spaulding who is a member of this Chapter of the Fraternity.

Great praise is due our house-mother, Mrs. Dawn Nelson Wallace, our Honorary Members, and faculty advisors for the successful years we have had and for the utopia of success for which we are always striving.

HOME COMING

Extract from a diary—
Friday, November 16:

Banners, houses decorated, a bonfire, snake-dance, welcoming of guests—our first annual home-coming! We were all grouped around the fire cheering when the Arnold College football team arrived. Our boys are playing them,—their first college game, tomorrow. How the whole school is looking forward to that game—and we're all going to be there backing the team.

Saturday, November 17:

Oh Diary, there's so much to write! We all got up early and breathed a sigh of relief to find that the weather was perfect. The big event of the morning was the girls' hockey game with Gardner. It was such an exciting game and really seemed like a victory for our team; but Gardner won 2-1. Around noon "Daddy" Mason and Mr. Hitchcock welcomed the alumni.

And the afternoon—will any of us ever forget it? The cheering, the band, the "hot dogs," AND the final score of the game! Just think, our boys won their first college game. What a wonderful beginning.

And what could have been a better climax to the week-end than the Masquerade Ball given by the Manchester Club? The hall decorated in green and white furnished a background for the unique and the beautiful costume—glad I wasn't a judge! Do you know, Diary, I can't wait for next year's home-coming?

MID YEAR'S

Ye colleagues, come with me down memory's lane to attend once again Mid Year's of 1929.

Overhead the heavens were lighted by a broad boulevard of stars. The moon cradled in a lone, fleecy cloud looked down upon the merry-makers,—sweet young girls in colorful evening gowns and young men attired in smart tuxedos, amidst a labyrinth of orange, yellow, and brown streamers which transformed the Spaulding gymnasium into a veritable fairy-land.

The orchestra burst into a fanfaronade of invitation and we danced 'til the hour of one when Father Time interrupted our frolic and sent us to our dormitories to sleep and to dream of an evening filled with happiness.

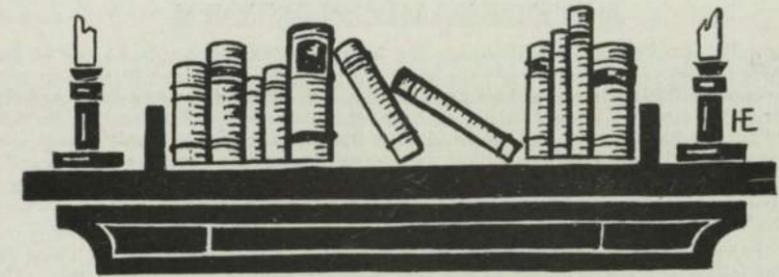

In the morning there were gay little breakfast parties, and strolling couples. Soon the time came to return to the gymnasium for the Tea Dance. Japanese maidens in novel little nooks served us delicious refreshments between the dances until five o'clock. And then at night—a dinner party, a theatre party, or the basketball game between Massachusetts Agricultural College and Keene Normal.

Then the saddest time of all came—departure, leaving us to resume once again our studies. Mid Years has past, but in our hearts there still remain dreams to cherish forever.

DIAMONDS

The most beautiful and brilliant of all gems is the diamond. It is also the hardest substance known to man. We read in Ancient History that the diamond was placed sixth in the breastplate of the high-priest, with the name of Naphtali, the sixth tribe of Israel, carved on it.

Diamonds are the most costly among gems, because they are rare. It has been said that there is no reason why the diamond should be so rare, except that those who own rich diamond mines limit the output. There is doubtless a sufficient quantity of diamonds in the mines of the world to supply every person who would like to have one. When in the mines, they are priced at $8 to $15 a carat, but when ready for sale, they cost from $100 to $200 more per carat. This is only an average estimate, as some diamonds, even before they are taken from the mines, are worth a large sum.

These precious gems were first found in gravel and sand in streams, and later deep in the earth. They are also found in ancient volcanic vents. This reveals to us the fact that they were either blown out of the interior of the earth, or else have formed under the conditions of cooling lava. Scientists have shown that by heating a piece of carbon and iron to intense heat by electricity and then allowing the mass to cool suddenly very small diamonds are formed in the center of the lump. Evidently, the diamond formation must be carbon subjected to great heat and then to the great pressure of cooling.

Diamonds form in crystals, some of which have four sides and are shaped like a cube; some have eight sides and resemble a double pyramid; and others have twelve faces, of which each is a parallelogram. There are also various other forms. As a diamond is the hardest material known in the world, it can only be cut and polished by contact with other diamonds.

The diamond has been put to many practical uses. The most outstanding are: diamond points used by glass-cutters to cut their glass, the dust of the diamond being saved from this process and used for fine polishing. The points of engraving tools for hard surfaces, such as glass and steel, are diamond points. Very small ones are used for bearings in watches, and on points of gold pens, and larger ones on lenses in microscopes.

Most ancient of these gems are known to have come from India where the industry of gathering these stones was first carried on. The natives of the lower caste were employed in the diamond fields. Golconda was the market for many of the Indian stones; but at present no diamonds are exported from India.

Diamonds have also been found in our United States, in Guiana, Russia, Sumatra and Australia. When buying a diamond, three essential points are to be considered: weight, purity and color. These gems are subject to three kinds of flaws. The presence of foreign minerals, gas, or moisture pores, specks of coal and graphite are the most common flaws of the first class. These are known as sand when visible to the naked eye, and dust when they are microscopic. To make sure that the stone is what it is represented to be, a ten or twenty power microscope should be used when purchasing a diamond.

The diamond is indeed very beautiful. We wonder at its beauty when we remember that it was found lying in the earth, or in a gravel bank. But then there is the water lily, one of the most beautiful and fragrant of flowers, whose stem grows in the muddy and slimy bottom of the pond.

Thus we are reminded that some of the most beautiful things in life are found in undesirable places.

—Richard Erwin, '30.

A BIT OF FAMILY HISTORY

In a quiet valley surrounded by woods and hills, was situated the quiet town of Madison, or what was to grow into a town. At the time of this story it was a small settlement of hard working people. Their homes had been framed from logs cut by their own labor and they had cleared their own land. This had been very hard work, but as they had worked, they pictured in their minds the happy hours to be spent in these homes, their own and only home. Is it any wonder they loved these log cabins and that they occupied a place in their hearts?

Through the woods and over the hills, in the next valley, lived a tribe of Indians. They had not come forth in an open attack but had been troublesome to the settlers. Women and children had often been badly frightened and, things had disappeared from their places.

On the very edge of the small settlement lived a very happy family by the name of Dare. There were four children, one of whom was a mere infant, possibly two years of age. The older children helped Father all day in the fields and at night came home to sit before the great open fireplace with Mother. They were very happy in their humble home, and it seemed cruel for disaster to befall them. A few days before, one of the settlers had angered the Indian chief when he refused to exchange guns and ammunition for furs, and the chief returned to his tribe eager for revenge.

One fine morning a few days later, Mr. Dare and the three elder children hastened out into the fields—leaving Mrs. Dare, with small John, at home. The child was left to play in front of the cabin door while his Mother went busily about her work singing. This was the day when the harvesting was to begin. God had been good to the settlers. The fields were full of ripened grain. All the men and children had gathered and gone to the fields where they were all to work together.

As the child played merrily in front of the cabin and the men worked busily in the fields, the Indians moved cautiously and quietly down the hills and through the woods into the little settlement. They were in full war dress with faces painted and bright feathers gleaming in the sunlight. As they reached the village, the band spread out and surrounded the village. First, a shrill war cry broke the stillness, then, a rush forward, arrows flying in all directions, and then, the village swarmed with the warriors. The much loved, pleasant, and happy homes were burned, and the occupants brutally killed.

The home on the edge of the village almost escaped the tragedy, but the chief and a few warriors, hunting for more booty and coming upon the cabin, fell upon the Mother and killed her and then burned the cabin. Little John had crawled under a bush, and here one of the warriors found him and was about to scalp him, when the chief came up. He saw the eyes of the frightened child and they at once appealed to him. He took the baby in his arms and signalled for the braves to move on.

For some unknown reason sight of the baby had touched the heart of the chief. He took him home to his wigwam. This was to be John's home for many years. Here he was brought up with the chief's own children, but he was always the chief's favorite. He never grew tired of explaining and showing the child about all kind of things.

The boy, grew up with his Indian brothers and sisters and grew to be very happy. He loved to have his face painted like his chief Father's. He grew to be a big and strong man. The chief was very proud of him and John was given the finest and most beautiful girl of the tribe for his wife. He enjoyed his Indian life, and he had forgotten entirely his early life. The Indian village was his home.

One day, upon going down to the little village of Madison, which had risen again after the great massacre, John, now a tall and finely built Indian, met a tall, dark man who had escaped death years before. He had watched the Indian coming down the road and as he drew near and he could see him better; something about the Indian's eyes suddenly attracted him and stepping in front of him he exclaimed, "John Dare—John Dare, I would know those eyes anywhere." The Indian stopped and looked at the man. He had seen him before sometime, and he had heard that name, but his mind was a maze. There was no definite connection as yet.

At last the man spoke again, "You are John Dare, the child I saw the Indian chief carry away so many years ago. You have the Dare eyes, and I would know them anywhere."

The mind of the Indian had cleared, and his thought suddenly went back to the little cabin and to his Mother and Father and the day when he had been so frightened and crept under the bush. He remembered how the great Indian had picked him up. In a flash it all came back to him.

After that he came often to the village and talked with the old man, but never did he wholly give up his Indian home. He loved it, but he took back his own name and his children were brought up as white children were. He did much to bring peace and harmony between the Indians and the Whites and spent his life in doing good for others.

MY WIFE'S ADDRESS BOOK

Now, I had to go to Bermuda on business, and it stood to reason that my wife should go, too. The firm for which I was working was going to foot the bills, of course, or my wife could not have gone. My passages were ordered, and I was given a slip of paper bearing this notice: "Call for your passages at Window 5, Brown and Brown Co., 1853 Office Street, before 3 p. m. Saturday, the 20th. I brought the paper home, and, for safekeeping, told my wife to enter it in her address book, which she did. That was Thursday.

Friday night, one of Constance's (my wife's) dear friends, phoned her and said, "Will you please give me the address of your wash lady? Mine is ill, and as I'm leaving town shortly, I must have a number of things laundered."

My wife, asking her to hold the line a minute, turned to me and said, "Walter, please look up Mrs. O'Shaughnessy's telephone number (address). My address book is on the desk." After nearly suffering a mental collapse at finding the book where she said, I turned to the list labelled "O." Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was not in "O." I turned to the list labelled "S." Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was not in "S." In despair I turned the book over to Constance (my wife) where she immediately found the desired address in "W."

When she had hung up the receiver, I said, "My dear, will you tell me why Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was listed in "W.""

"Of course," she replied, "you see—she is a wash-lady, and as I think of her more often as that than as Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, I listed her in 'W.'"

Well, I didn't see and determined to get at the root of the matter. Turning to "M" I found Mrs. Burke resting there as non-chalantly as though her name were spelled with a silent letter. That, also, was easily explained. Mrs. Burke was Nina Moore before she was married. Not so bad, but who can expect a man to remember reasons for every name in the book?

Once more I took the book in hope of finding a misplaced name that could not be explained. After long and patient search and reflection, I discovered one that I considered as such. I shook the book under my wife's nose, not a gentlemanly thing to do, I admit, but nevertheless, I did it and cried triumphantly, "Well, my dear, account for that. Here is Mrs. Youngquist listed in 'G.' Now she was Elizabeth Wollaston before she was married. She has had, has, and always will have no occupation save that of a social butterfly. Her husband's name is not George, nor Gerald, nor Geoffrey, nor Godfrey, nor Gamaliel, nor Guiseppa, and he is a stockbroker. I might add, for emphasis, that his name is Roscoe."

"What fools men are!" said my beloved spouse (wife) in that manner which makes one feel like two cents minus eleven dollars. "Why, I put her under 'G' because she condescended to give me a pair of elbow length gloves last Christmas."

Can you beat that! Why under the sun don't women list people by their names instead of by their virtues or aliases?

Saturday came at length and the "boss" let me off early so that I might go home and get the address and purchase the passage. He laughed though, when I told him it was in my wife's address book. I wondered why? When I reached home, Constance was out, but I got the book and proceeded to look up the address. It was not listed in "B" and I straightway called down maledictions on that book. Then I remembered that after my wife had entered the address she had thrown the paper in the basket. Therefore, the contents of the aforesaid basket were promptly dumped on the floor and subjected to a thorough search. The paper was not in the basket either! Frantically I ransacked the desk in hopes that it was some other paper that she had discarded. My labors did nothing but add to the mess on the floor. And my watch said 2:15. I had to get there before 3:00. Oh, if I only knew where Constance was. I had my hat on over one ear, my coat over one arm, and my watch in the other hand. I must have been a sight for the gods as I paced the floor, but pace it I did. Ha! an idea! a thought! an inspiration! Would she have entered it under ticket, or passage, or certificate? Perhaps peradventure, and perhaps not. Madly I seized the book. My watch said 2:20. I have always prided myself on being a clever man. I quickly ran through the T's, P's, and C's and also many other letters. My wife is not a good penman, penwoman, I should say. Well, man or woman, the address was not there. In despair I turned to look over that turmoil of papers on her (my wife's) desk, but gave it up as a bad job. With deliberate calm, I stalked up and down the room, racking my brains for some means of discovering that address. Failure met my every attempt. "Where, oh, where was my Constance gone?" I shouted in self-derision. A fleeting glance at my watch showed that it was now 2:35. Why couldn't women be reasonable? Not being able to do anything else, I stood in the middle of the paper-strewn room, glowering at my watch—2:40, 2:41, 2:42, 2:43, a voice! A step! the closing of a door! My wife!

I rushed at her. "Where's that address?" I shouted. "I've got to be there at 3:00. Where's that address?" "What address?" said Constance (my wife) standing there looking at me as cool as a cucumber.

"The address!" I cried. "The passages—Bermuda!" I never said my wife wasn't bright. She hauled the (address) book out of that pyramid of papers on the floor and in less than an instant had found the address in "F." Of course "F"—first class passage.

I tore the page from the book, rushed from the house, and by pure luck (blessings on old King Luck, anyway, till the day of Judgment) caught an Office and Broad St. car. I reached Brown and Brown Co., Window 5, at 2:58.

A lot of transactions can be done in a few minutes by clear-headed business men like me. My wife and I sail for Bermuda on the 21st inst.

(Isn't a woman's address book a wonderful institution?)

RETROSPECT—

Days gone before, and their petty sorrows,
Grip me in thought undenied:
What matter the cares of the tomorrows,
With those other days unallied?

New joys, new trials, are in a sphere
Not to be viewed in despair;
Why not look back to another year
When we knew no pain nor care?

Glad dreams, sweet dreams, always haunting,
Dreams of the days that are gone,
Days that were bright, left nothing wanting;
Short night of rest ere the dawn!

What pictures I see in this mem'ry of mine,
What happiness reigns in my heart!
My memory, Friend, is a gift Divine:
God grant it shall never depart!—

ELEMENTAL

Over the brow of the hill
Where the ground slopes down to a road,
Straight and slender, symmetric,
Grows a poplar, swayed by the wind.

Thunder and wind and lightning
Are playing around my hill:
And the drumming beat of raindrops
Refreshen the thirsty soil.

High up on the top of this mountain,
Lashed by the speeding wind,
I listen, and look, and am happy
To be in a thunderstorm.

—Irene Farley, '29.

CHAOTIC THOUGHTS

Strife, chaos, dangers, lurking everywhere. Sins, black and grim, ever in sway.

One earthly Brother suspecting the other. Knowing not, caring not, surging madly onward. Where? It matters not.

Distrust, misunderstanding, unympathetic views. Views maintained with prejudice and with no chance for careful thinking and possible solution.

Dark alleys and blind, leading nowhere in particular going on and on heedless of the direction. Demons of danger haunting these alleys. Past events, hard feelings, personal pride, and many others of their kin, stalking about the sickened streets.

Corpses here, corpses there. Grim reminders of the past, heaped high in the square, fuel for the fires of Hatred. Corpses come as fast as corpses go. Try hard as she may Perseverance, the only lady in our picture, cannot free Selfish Man. He wants no freedom. He scorns it when she proffers. He cares not for those around him, only for his selfish end.

Drum beats, Wars, civil and worldly, great and small. Degredation of human souls. False accusations for personal benefits. Lies, lies, lies. Told for what gain? Selfish gain, prestige in this chaotic strife for existence. Satire, anger, madness, hate and strife—cousins all, and one in the thought and action of these fiends. More corpses for the fires of Hatred.

Laughter sits astride of Fate, holding both his sides. Weird noises and eerie, he makes in gesture at these men of Time. Humor he sees in all his chaos and battle for selfish ends. All is going well with him, for he finds pure enjoyment in others' discomfort. He is the Brother of the Demon Jeer, who taunts people into this aimless Turmoil of Thought and Action, this endless turmoil, the satisfaction of these Two. Together they are responsible for the corpses on this awe demanding pyre, this spectacular waste of human powers.

The world's a kettle, and the people in it are the pudding. Destiny is the tender of this kettle, and with His spoons, Sensation and Emotion, stirs the content into action. And they let him urge them on. They realize not the havoc that he works among them and are happy in their sing.

The pyre in the square is higher now than ever before. Noisy crowds are thronging round this gruesome fire, the fire of Hatred. Jeer and Laughter toss on corpses, corpses from these noisy crowds. In and on they toss them, and life for them is over. Is this Death or just an exit from this life? They care not—these corpses—they have had their fling.

Sins black and grim, are left behind. Strife, chaos, danger, still lurk everywhere. Man is stubborn, but life is sweet.

Llewellyn A. Brewster.

DRAWN CURTAINS

Some curtains are drawn each night
To hide from view some inner sight.
These are drawn in houses grand
To keep from us some jovial band.

Some curtains are drawn too close
Some shattered hopes and woes:
To one's most inner self alone
Are many things more often known.

Time there was when men were frank:
From truth they never shrank.
Now, try to find the man of brawn
Who hasn't got his curtains drawn.

But there's one curtain they can't draw,
To hide the facts from Nature's Law.
And that's the curtain of my mem'ry:
For God alone, can draw it for me.

L. A. B.

DEFIANCE

Too long have my heart-beats quickened
In terror of the surging sea;
Too long have I forced my body
Where my spirit shuddered to be.

I have cringed at sight of its frenzy;
Yet, long have I quelled my fears,
Seeking to find its beauty,
Seeking, these many years.

I have seen its calm blue waters;
I have watched it lash the land!
Waves with leech-like fingers
Have slowly sucked the sand.

I defy this pagan splendor;
I rebel against its power!
I renounce the nets it has woven
To entrap me every hour!
Yet, I constantly steal upon it,
Weakened before its spell;
Led by my heart's strange insistence
Where I feel only Hatred can dwell.

Sallie Preil, '31.

WORTHY CONTRIBUTIONS

"Faces are but a gallery of pictures and talk but a tinkling cymbal where there is no love." These faces where there is no love as Bacon, describes them will be just faces, no memories, no friendly thoughts and no happy worth while experiences will be connected with them. These autographed pages which our classmates will read will be covered with only cold written words. Oh! awake my reader! Is there not something to win from these people besides love? It is not sentimentalism alone we are seeking in this world. There are many qualities to search for in a person besides lovability.

There are those qualities which make the musical, the artistic, the philosophical, the humorous, the witty and the mediocre person. All of these qualities which may be called endowments help to bring back to the mind faces and memories of what these classmates had to contribute to school life and of what you realized they would be able to contribute to others after graduation.

Now, when you look at one of these familiar faces in your Kronicle you will realize that there was something that person must have contributed to the task of building your character.

Reflect for a moment. What did you contribute toward the character building of your classmates? You must have made some contribution, yet you are probably unaware of it.

Let us hope that we all feel toward our classmates somewhat as Beethoven felt towards the forms of nature in the Viense woods, the inspiration of his Pastoral Symphony. The following is what he once wrote to a friend.

"It is as if every tree and every bush could understand my mute enquiries and responded to them."

We trust that our classmates understood our verbal enquiries and sometimes mute enquiries and responded to them with the best they had to offer. If their offerings were the best, we received inspiration, which is one of the finest gifts that could have been given to us.

As each one of us look at the faces of those on the faculty, think of those who awakened us to the study of great books, who led us into passionate discussion of worthy subjects in class and among ourselves, and of those who helped to pave the way for the development of the rarest of all human beings, a good teacher.

The poems of a poet, the music of the musician and the paintings of the painter live with us after they have gone; so will contributions of our classmates and teachers live with us, if they were worthy.

--Frances Pierce, '31.

C'EST LA VIE

Marie was a beautiful dancer. Robin played heavenly music on his violin. One wonderful day in June they ran away and got married. They didn't know they were going to, they just did. The action was typical of the two. They were impulsive. They didn't stop to think of the consequences. They only knew that they were naturally and simply and most wonderfully in love with each other, and that life was not complete for one without the other. They were joyously and foolishly happy.

After the wedding they ran away again, to a jewel of a lake set high among the mountains, where the sun rose in splendor and set in a glory of flaming clouds which were mirrored in the lake. The wooded shores became dark, and the fir trees showed their jagged black silhouettes against the sky. From the mountains the two lovers went to the sea shore. There, they wondered why life was so good to them and if Heaven could possibly be better. Sometimes they talked to each other for a long time. In the evening they watched the moonlight shimmer over the waves and listened to the steady boom of the surf. There was no need to talk then. Sometimes when the sea was very calm, Robin made beautiful music on his violin and Marie danced on the hard, wet sand, her black curls flying and the moonbeams playing tag all over them. When there was a storm and the waves rose high, dashing themselves on the shore, Robin and Marie donned oilskins and walked along the beach exulting in the rain, the wind, and the thunder of the sea.

Now their honeymoon was over. They went home to work and to build a little house. It was their house of dreams come true. In their leisure time they worked in their garden together, went shopping for beautiful things for their house, or read to each other before their own hearth-fire.

Soon Marie gave up her dancing career for the career of making her home beautiful, preparing delicious dishes for her husband, and making welcome all their friends. Their daily work did not always run smoothly, but always they had each other so what did it matter? Every year they had a vacation, part of which was spent away from each other. It was during the second of these vacations that Marie received the awful news. Robin was drowned!

No! No! He could not be gone forever. It could not be true. It must not be true. How could she live without him? He could not be dead—he had always been so very much alive. She could see his smile, his golden head, his gray eyes. Was she never to see him again? never to hear his violin say that to her that only the heart could feel? She could not sleep. At night she saw strange shapes in the darkness. She saw him going down—down—No, no, she could not think of it—she could not. The spirit of him was calling her back to those golden days. She could see him laughing, all wrapped in golden sunshine.

Her heart began to sing again with new promise. He was waiting for her somewhere.

She went back to her dancing. She could not be idle. She hid her sorrow beneath gay words and laughter.

Then suddenly she was ill. She begged them to take her to the cottage by the sea where she had spent those early happy days of her marriage. Her wish was granted.

One night when her nurse had fallen asleep in the next room, Marie could not resist her longing. She crept weakly out of the cottage. There was the sea as she remembered it, dressed in shimmering, golden moonlight. Her strength returned to her. She flung out her arms. She danced. Then she fell in a heap on the sand.

They found her lying there, smiling. Robin had been waiting for her. She had found him again at last. They were united forever.

THIS WINTER'S BEAUTY

Though I should go blind and deaf tomorrow, I have a store of beauty to last my life.
Each day I add some picture, some song.
This winter I have added—
A city corner at night all white with new snow, while the yellow street lamps made black shadows of the square, silent houses—
A white field at sunset with glowing pools of molten gold—
The black boughs of an elm penciled against a sky of clear, flawless blue—
A cluster of buildings on a hill, dark forms outlined on the golden heart of the flaming western sky—
The slide and clap of skis on the hard, smooth road; and the cold challenge of the wind—
White mountains veiled with an amethyst snow-cloud—
A silver moon capping a lone tree—
A star-spangled scarf of sky between tall buildings—
The lonely roar of the wind around the warm house—
The boughs of a lighted Christmas tree bending under white snow—
Crystal pendants from a rain spout—
All this beauty have I taken for my own.

—Sara McKinney, '30.

THE BROOK

With its source above the hills,
At birth two tiny rills,
The babbling brook flows down
To greet us all, in my ain town.

It babbles as it swiftly glides,
It roars as over rocks it slides;
And ever onward, joyously it flows
To join the river swelled with winter snows.

And though 'tis lost within this stream,
It onward flows a gleam
Till the river meets the sea,
The sea that laps the marshy lea.

Then joyously it floats out
With many a turn about,
Till the sun absorbs it, not in vain,
And drops it in its bed again.

L. A. B.

SUNRISE ON MOUNT WASHINGTON

A warm, pink, glow softened the cold light, clear and gray, as a child's trusting smile warms a gold glance. The glow flamed to bright fingers to reach forth and gather in the night. It touched the ice-enamored lakelets, reposing in hollows on the height, transforming them to molten limpidness.

The sun, nearing the horizon, sent the far-distant mountains into a relief black against the dazzling quality of Phoebus' rays. As it emerged in a glory supremely majestic from its fortress, a seeming mountain of midnight purple projected itself against the western vault—a mountain unknown to geography, whose sides were those of a perfect right angle, a mountain which shrank in stature as the sun rose—this mountain—the shadow of Mount Washington.

So it rose—this orb of red—its light capping the peaks of mountains far below, making of the valleys such pools of blackness that these very sun-flecked tips seemed all but jewels on black velvet, endeared themselves to the memory as do moon-beam-lighted water-lilies on a darling lake. It crept down the mountain sides until it bathed the valleys in a dew-drenched dawn, until it silvered the lakes and brought day to the world.

—Elizabeth Fletcher, '30.

JOKES

Andy: I washed my hair again yesterday and I can't do a thing with it.
Camp: That's nothing I washed my feet and I can't do a thing with them.

Hurd: Are you taking English?
Armstrong: Yes.
Hurd: Did you read "Twelfth Night?"
Armstrong: We don't get Eleanor Glyn in that course.

Peg: I saw five of your fraternity brothers down town yesterday afternoon.
Dick: I didn't know you knew so many.
Peg: I didn't, but I recognized the ties.

Sue: What is a synonym?
Ray: A word you use when you can't spell the other one.

Tut: I hear they're going to put whiskers on Fords.
Dot: What are they going to do that for?
Tut: To make them look like Lincolns.

Pat: Can you look over my shoulders?
Ed: Oh yes, I've already looked them over and they're both fixed perfectly.

Mahar: Mr. Roberts is supposed to be on this side.
Coach Morse: Let's not discuss more details now???

Conrad: Why do you call me Pilgrim?
M. Campbell: Well, every time you call you make a little progress.

Vanda: Do you know what will stop falling hair?
Bill: Sure, the floor.

Miss Shaw: Tenney, I don't believe you are studying your geography.
Tenney: Well, I heard Quinn say the map of the world was changing every day, and I thought I'd wait till things got settled.

Coach Morse: What made you so late getting up this morning?
Wedluga: There are two people in my room, and the alarm was set for only one.

Late to bed and early to rise
Keeps the fellows from stealing your ties.

George: My brother is taking up French, Greek, Latin and Spanish.
Irene: I didn't know your brother went to college.
George: He doesn't. He runs the elevator at Ellis Island.

Mr. Carle: Why don't you answer my question?
Corette: Well, I shook my head.
Mr. Carle: I can't hear your head rattle clear over here.

Mr. Drenan: Do you know why I flunked you?
Downey: I haven't an idea.
Mr. Drenan: Correct.

Morrill (bitterly): Women are fools to marry.
Phil King: Yes, I agreed with you; but what else can you marry?

"A woman is at the bottom of everything," moaned the farmer, as he pulled his wife out of the well.

Miss Brooks: Lloyd in your theme you rise to majestic heights.
Lloyd: How come?
Miss Brooks: Quite a tall bluff.

Dean Hitchcock: Why are you late to your 8:15 class every morning?
K. McCarthy: The rest of the class come too early.

M. Bridge: Oh Beemis, is that clock striking twelve?
Beemis: "No brilliancy, it's simply practicing up for one.

Gordon Streeter: I would like—ah—you see I want to—Salesman in store: Take the elevator, sir; diamond rings on the third floor.

Don: What's the most effective poison in the world?
Jack: Iodine?
Don: Naw, airplane poison; one drop and you're dead.

Grace: I think football is just glorious; it gives one such a graceful carriage.
Gordon: Yes, and a couple of Charley Horses to draw it.

Eunice: Say Tick, what-cha writing?
Tick: A joke.
Eunice: All right, give him my best regards.

Cutter: What does your room-mate like?
Dean: Everything I've got.

Erwin (seeing Hickey running up street): Training for a race?
Hickey: No you simp, racing for a train.

Mr. Swinnerton: What can you tell me about nitrates?
Creedon: Well-er they're a lot cheaper than day rates.

Bailey: Say, that linament you gave me yesterday was no good.
Coach: Well, don't rub it in.

Dr. Keyes to L. Harwood during recitation: Change your feet to inches.
Harwood: I wish I could.

Mary Hall: Irene, you were talking in your sleep last night.
Irene: Pardon me for interrupting you.

Mr. Huntington (in Psych): It is about lying that I wish to talk today.
By the way, how many have read the twenty-fifth chapter?
(Nearly every hand went up).
Good, you are the very group to whom I want to speak. There is no twenty-fifth chapter.

Birm: I wish I could revise the alphabet.
Dot: Why?
Birm: Then I would put U and I closer together.

Vadie: I have an idea.
Arnold: Be good to it; its in a strange place.

Mary Mayo: Sheep are certainly stupid animals.
Hardy: Yes, my lamb.

Lawrence: Did you take a shower?
Pelletier: No, is there one missing?

Mahar: You were born in Ireland?
Fleming: I was.
Mahar: What part?
Fleming: Why all of me, of course.

Miss Hale: Fenerty, throw your gum in the basket this instant. Don't you know it's made from horses hoofs?
Fenerty (rising reluctantly): I guess that must be the reason why I get such a kick out of it.

TO THE NORMAL SCHOOL PUPILS YESTERDAY
TODAY
TOMORROW

Each and every day is a good day, if,—its time is profitably employed for progress.

FACTS:—Yesterday has gone—tomorrow does not as yet exist.

Therefore the only thing that really counts is what we do today—every today.

- Today is the time to spend less,
- To earn more,
- To deposit your extra earnings,
- To build a surplus,
- To advance.

Of course the best place for surplus money is in the Bank.

THIS KNOWLEDGE MEANS MONEY
